ORINOCO

President Bowman Talks
About the Venezuelan Matter in St. Paul.

Company is Not at All Interested in International Strife.

Perfectly Satisfied No Matter
Which Way the Wrangle Ends.

St. Paul, Oct. 15.—Several people most directly interested in the Orinoco company were in St. Paul yesterday, and they met and talked the situation over informally. As soon as the papers in connection with the lease of the Venezuelan land grant of the Orinoco company are made out, the officers of the latter company will meet in St. Paul. The meeting will probably occur in a few days.

Among those now in the city are: Donald Grant, president of the Orinoco company; Sam Grant, Faribault; W. H. Fisher and others. When seen in his office yesterday, President Bowman said: "The lease has been completed in the state of Washington. The amount of land is 14,000,000 acres, and the amount of purchase $25,000,000, the least extending over ninety-nine years. The incorporation was made in the state of Washington, where it costs practically nothing, while here it would have cost between $10,000 and $15,000."

"Much nonsense has been written and many sensational complications of nations reported. I desire to impress on the people generally that we are not stirring up strife, we do not want trouble nor are we asking any government to do anything, nor have we ever done so, except to demand at one time of the Venezuelan government that it should not acquire any question of international dispute. Whatever questions there are will be settled by arbitration. Furthermore, we never secured any land or concession from Venezuela for the purpose of having any such question settled. As a matter of fact, we will lose nothing whatever way it is settled."

"How about the report that the British government had demanded of the British government that within a given time it must cease its encroachments or submit the matter to arbitration?"

"That report is incorrect. If such had been done, it would be equivalent to a declaration of war. Still, I am led to believe that Mr. Olney made a request upon the British government to have this whole matter arbitrated. No time was specified, and he made no demand. But his request was couched in vigorous terms, which none could misinterpret."

"Was it because the land of American citizens was being encroached on that Mr. Olney took the matter in hand so vigorously?"

"The question does not appertain to the land of the Minnesotans or any other Americans, but to the land generally of the Southern republic. The question is, whether England can dismember a Southern republic and ignore the Monroe doctrine. England has taken a little part of our tract, but altogether, she has grabbed a piece of land as big as New York and wealthier than New York. Little island. Great gold and timber lands has she taken. We don't ask a thing. We will still have taken but a small part of our possessions, and as we have it properly fixed with the Venezuelan government, we would have our losses made good by other possessions. So we ask nothing; not even protection."

JAPANESE CHOLERA.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Reports to the United States surgeon general indicate that during the present epidemic of cholera in Japan there have been 42,706 cases and 25,313 deaths. These reports agree in saying that the disease was unusually virulent this year in certain districts, almost all of the cases proving fatal. It is believed that the epidemic has reached its climax.

KNOWLEDGE

Drugs comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life to the full are those who are guided by a knowledge of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50 cent bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

STANFORD ESTATE.

Government Suit to be Opened in Supreme Court.

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—The government's suit against the Stanford estate is to be immediately taken to the United States supreme court by the government. The latter's counsel, Judge McKissick, has received instructions to that effect from Attorney General Harmon. The dispatch, which was brief, said: "Sorry you lost, but you did everything possible. Case should be appealed to the supreme court."

Judge McKissick hopes to have his petition for an appeal prepared and filed sometime in the next two or three days. A citation of notice to the other side will be issued, and within ten days, he thinks, the appeals should be perfected. Judge McKissick said that the attorney general, as is the custom, will enter an appearance when the appeal goes before the United States supreme court, and move to advance the case on the calendar to some specified day convenient to the court. The court usually grants such requests on motion of the attorney general, but of course the day for the hearing of the case cannot be known until the court sets the date.

THE SPIRITUALISTS.

Annual Meeting Opens in Washington Today.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The National Spiritualists association will begin its three-day annual session here today and will continue until Thursday. There will be three sessions each day, and it has been arranged to have the meetings addressed by some of the most prominent mediums of the country. The morning session will convene at 10 o'clock. The opening address will be delivered by the president, H. D. Barrett, Mrs. Cora L. Richmond, will deliver the address of welcome to the delegates and Mrs. Colby will respond. The standing committees will be appointed and the committees' credentials and rules will then be reported.

The afternoon session will be devoted to the reading of the treasurer's and the finance committee's report. In the evening Mrs. Q. M. Jacques will be the presiding officer. The evening session will be devoted to the reading of the treasurer's and the finance committee's report. In the evening Mrs. Q. M. Jacques will be the presiding officer. ### DURRANT TRIAL.

A Postponement Until Monday Probable.

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—Another postponement in the Durrant trial will be asked for by Attorney Dickinson upon the converting of court this morning. The continued illness of Mr. Dupuy has made this step necessary, and Judge Murphy will undoubtedly grant the request. Dupuy is considerably worse with rheumatism than he was on the day when he was last seen in the court room, and it is more than likely that it will be a week or so before he will be able to resume his place.

It is hardly likely that Judge Murphy will grant a postponement for as much as a week at the present stage of the proceedings, except for an absolute necessity. For just what time Dickinson will ask an adjournment, Judge Murphy does not know, but most likely it will be until next Monday, when, if Dupuy is not better, the case will be adjourned. Dickinson and Thompson will have to go on with the case themselves.

The defense was only a very weak one. After disposing of young Leman, the rebuttal will be rapidly approached, and the end can be calculated by days. In anticipation of the speedy announcement of the resting of the defense, the district attorney, James H. and his first assistant, Edward Foxworth, are whipping their rebuttal testimony into shape, and the case will be placed before the jury quickly.

THE RIGHT TO THINK.
In reply to The Herald's criticism of the Minneapolis Journal for claiming that Mr. Towne's advocacy of bimetallism in public speeches is not consistent with his efforts to prevent any expression on this subject at the Cleveland convention, the Journal demands to know when The Herald earned "the right to speak for Mr. Towne, whose nomination it so strenuously opposed." The Herald does not assume the right to speak for Mr. Towne to any greater extent than it assumes the right to defend any public man who is unfairly criticized and grossly misrepresented by such notoriously unscrupulous papers as the Journal. It happens, also, that Mr. Towne is an advocate of bimetallism, to which policy The Herald also adheres, and therefore it feels that it is its duty to expose the manner in which his views and the views of other bimetallists on the money question are deliberately misrepresented by the Journal and other goldbug organs. As to The Herald's opposition to Mr. Towne's nomination, that has nothing to do with the question now under discussion. The Herald made no personal attacks upon Mr. Towne when he sought the nomination, and when the Republicans of St. Louis county decided in his favor, The Herald urged his nomination by the district convention.

But the Journal's attitude towards Mr. Towne and other Minnesota Republicans who advocate bimetallism is so utterly unfair that The Herald cannot but protest. It would have Mr. Towne and other bimetallists remain silent until the meeting of the next Republican national convention, while at the same time it and the other gold standard advocates continued to preach their doctrines both upon the platform and in the public press. In other words, the Journal would deny to the Republicans who disagree with it on the money question the right to think and express their thoughts.

The Superior Leader, which has not so far as The Herald has noticed, endorsed Mr. Towne's financial views, agrees that the Journal's criticism of his attitude in addressing public gatherings on behalf of bimetallism is unfair. It is very properly regarded it as an attempt to throttle discussion, to stifle any expression of public opinion opposed to the single gold standard policy. Here is what the Leader says in reply to the Journal: "Isn't there a difference between thinking and speaking in the interest of what one considers should be the policy of the party and opposing any unauthorized declaration of the party on a subject? Laying down the doctrine that one shouldn't think or express an opinion outside of a political convention is like having the preacher do all your religious thinking for you. That is, the masses should let those who run the caucuses and conventions formulate, without a word of debate or thought, the sentiment of the party, and when the platform is announced the masses should rise up and say: 'Them's my sentiments.' According to the Journal's own doctrine it shouldn't utter a political sentiment, editorially, for fear it might not be in accordance with the Republican platform next year."

The Journal cannot prevent the people from thinking on the money question nor can it prevent them from discussing it and expressing their belief in bimetallism. Mr. Towne is exercising the right of free speech. He is at the same time exercising the right of every Republican to induce the party to adopt what he believes should be its policy on the money question. If the Journal does not agree with his views, it has the right to dissent, but it does not possess the right to charge him with inconsistency because, while he personally advocates genuine bimetallism, he opposed any expression on the subject by a convention which did not represent the Republican party. There are thousands of Republicans who had no voice in the Cleveland convention and were not represented there. These people will have a voice in the selection of delegates to the national convention next year, and they will be bound by the action of that convention. But in the meantime they will exercise their right to create sentiment in support of the policy which they will urge the national convention to adopt.

THE MAYOR'S VETOES.
Mayor Lewis did well in vetoing the two resolutions accepting plans for market houses, one at West Duluth and the other in the central portion of the city. As The Herald has repeatedly pointed out, it would be foolish to build a market house at West Duluth just as it would be unwise to erect one at Lakeside or Woodland. One central market house is all the city will need for ten years at least. In St. Paul there is only one public market, and in Minneapolis there is but one. Why should Duluth have more? The site selected at West Duluth was unsuitable for market purposes, and this was another reason for the mayor's veto. The veto of the central market resolution was proper, because there is no intention of building a market house at this time. This project can easily be laid over until the city treasury is in a healthier state. It would have been foolish to accept any plans now, because the next council, which may decide to build a market house next summer, might desire to build under entirely different plans. The result would be that the architect whose plans are favored now would have a claim for regular fees then, even if his plans were cast aside.

The mayor disapproved of the ordinance creating a water and light board, the members of which would hold office for five years and who would elect the secretary. The veto was based upon the ground that the council has no legal authority to create such a board at this time, and that, in view of the supreme court's decision in the health officer's case it has no power to elect an official for a longer term than one year. Both points appear to be well taken. The city charter does not authorize the council to appoint a water and light board until after the city has erected or has acquired by purchase or otherwise a light or water plant. Consequently it would appear that the creation of the plant must proceed under the control of the city engineer and the board of public works. With the mayor's veto was an opinion by the city attorney in which he took the ground that as the secretary of the board would be an officer of the city he should be elected by the council. There does not appear to be anything in the charter leading to such a conclusion. The charter says the council "may provide for such officers and assistants as may be necessary to carry on the business" of the department. Why may it not designate the number of such officials and provide that the board of commissioners shall select them? The board of public works elects its own secretary. Is he not an officer of the city? The fire commissioners elect their secretary and they elect the chief of the department. Are they not city officers?

The mayor's fourth veto was a disapproval of the resolution instructing the city attorney to sue the members of the board of public works for damages caused to the city by negligence in making an assessment for a public improvement. The council passed the resolution again over the mayor's veto, with only one dissenting vote. The Herald dwelt upon this subject at some length yesterday, and it is unnecessary now to repeat the reasons why the council has taken the proper course, but The Herald will return to this subject again.

The subject of marriage among educated women has caused considerable discussion lately. The idea that college training is thoroughly hostile to matrimony is not sustained, but it is found that the higher education causes less early marriages. After the women leave college the greater part of them become teachers, and this profession is almost fatal to marriage for women.

The facts go to show that about one-half of the college graduates among women ultimately marry, and that they bring to domestic life an elevation and strength which produce many happy homes.

Trilby has been knocked out by science in the first round. A physician, who recently addressed a social culture society in New York on the subject of Dr. Maury's heroine, says that there could have been no such Trilby as the novelist pictured, because a Trilby with no voice, no ear for music and no brains could not have had her throat filled with melody even by a Svengali with a Merlin's wand. Hypnotism cannot work such wonders, and all the Trilbyists and Svengalists who have filled our white nights and rosy days for months past have been fictitious fudge and frothy false alarm.

The suffrage clause which will be inserted in South Carolina's new constitution provides that the voter must be one "who can read a section of the constitution to the satisfaction of the officers of the election, or who can explain said section when read to him to the satisfaction of said officers." This means that no matter if a man could expound the constitution like a Webster, if he has a black skin, white election officers will not be satisfied. Is not such a clause in violation of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the federal constitution?

The journey of a bicyclist from Boston to New York in less than twenty-four hours, including stops, says the St. Louis Star-Sayings, is a reminder of the fact that when the first combined railway and steamboat line between these two cities was instituted about half a century ago it was thought that the journey would be so long and tedious that at least two hotels en route would be desirable for rest and refreshment.

The bulk of the increase in British revenue returns for the past six months, $2,685,000, was derived from the sale of revenue stamps, chiefly arising from the extraordinary development of stock exchange business and the promotion of new companies. Every department of the revenue service showed an increase, proving the existence of a solid improvement in trade.

It is said that Senator D. B. Hill has served notice on the president that if Hornblower is nominated to the supreme court justness he will oppose him. He says he opposed him before on the ground of unfitness, and the fact that Hornblower voted for him for governor last year does not make him any more fit. If this report be true, Mr. Hornblower will not reach the supreme court bench.

On Sunday the morning paper published a report of the Curling club's committee on the next hospital, which appeared in The Herald four weeks ago. Today it reproduced a story about the contracts for the new Missabe ore dock, which The Herald published three weeks ago. If the News Tribune would copy from The Herald daily, it would not be so far behind with the news.

Some crack-brained individuals have been evincing the talk about the creation of a new state to be composed of Minnesota and Wisconsin territory, and they are representing that Duluth favors the idea. Duluth does not favor it and has given little attention to it.

The new registration of voters in the city of Baltimore this year has been phenomenal. The number of names now on the lists is 123,770, and impartial judges hold that this means no less than 15,000 fraudulent voters in the Gorman interest.

The Minneapolis Tribune did not reply to Mr. Towne's speech in advocacy of bimetallism. It does not know enough about the money question, and wonderful to state it refrained from exposing its ignorance.

The program of the state convention of the Christian Endeavor society, to be held in Duluth the latter part of this week, is very interesting. The Herald will give the earliest and best reports of the convention.

Davis and Reed would be a winning ticket for the Republicans in 1896. With Cuth Davis in the White House and Tom Reed infusing business methods into the drowsy senate, things would hum.

Lord Sackville should have accepted the offer the dime museum manager made soon after the Murchison letter incident. The dime museum is the place for freaks.

The members of the board of public works they wanted the charge of negligence taken in court. They will have their wish gratified.

SOMETIME, SOMEWHERE.
Unanswered yet the prayer your lips have uttered:
In agony of heart these many years?
Do faith bleed from your eyes?
And think you all in vain those falling tears?
Say not the Father has not heard your prayer.
You shall have your desire sometime, somewhere.

Unanswered yet? Though when you first presented
This offering could not wait the time of it.
The Lord will answer you sometime, somewhere.

Unanswered yet, faith cannot be unaided:
Aid feet firmly planted on the rock:
Arm'd with will, storms she stands undaunted,
Nor quails before the loudest thunder shock:
She knows Omnipotence has heard her prayer,
And cries: "Thy shall be done," sometime, somewhere.

Versailles Gaily Decorated in Honor of Visitors.

Versailles, Oct. 15.—The streets of this city were profusely decorated and the railroad station was crowded inside and out today with people eager to greet the emperor and empress of Germany upon the occasion of their visit to Alsace-Lorraine. Their majesties arrived here at 9 o'clock and were received at the railroad station by Baron Von Hammerstein, president of the district of Lorraine, the burgomaster and other public officials. The emperor and empress subsequently proceeded to Chateau Urville. The route to the chateau was lined with members of the different veterans association, etc., who enthusiastically cheered the imperial party and pelted their majesties with flowers. The Emperor Frederick monument on the battlefield of Woerth will be unveiled on Friday next.

FOLKS WITH PAINS

HOW TO GET RID OF THE PAIN.

Pains in the Back, Pains in the Muscles, Pains in the Joints, Pains in the Head.

What Causes Them and What Cures Them.

Pain is a sign of disease. You want to get rid of it. There are two ways. Either to cure the disease or relieve the pain.

The first way is the better. The curing settles the disease and the pain. The relieving only hides the pain. It will come back again. The disease stays right where it is and eats away your health. You may not feel it while the pain is gone, but it is there just the same.

Pain in the back is kidney trouble. It can be cured with Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

It can be cured to stay away, and without any more cure needed.

Kidney trouble gives a great deal of trouble to doctors. It is hard to cure. There are so many complications. They are generally so dangerous.

Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills make such a large percentage of cures.

The Asparagus, from which they are made, has such a healing, soothing, curative action on the kidneys, it is such a gentle and healthful tonic, that it cures nearly every case of kidney trouble in which it is used.

Rheumatism is pain in the muscles. Lotions, etc., can only relieve the pain. They can't cure the rheumatism. Rheumatism is a complication of kidney trouble. It is a poison in the blood. The kidneys should have taken it out, but they didn't.

Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will help cure the rheumatism. They do it by helping the kidneys to get rid of the poison in the blood. They do it so thoroughly that it is very seldom the rheumatism ever comes back.

Pain in the joints is gout. It is caused by a poison like rheumatism. It can be cured with Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

This is a symptom of brain trouble, but it is caused by the kidneys. In working, uses up its substance. The blood supplies new substance. But when the blood is impure (on account of sick kidneys), it gives no nourishment. The brain wears out. As it wears, it pains. This is brain trouble.

Headache, dizziness, neuralgia, etc., can be cured with Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

People who have suffered from pains and aches for years should try Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

Put a box of Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills in your medicine chest, and give them a new feeling of life and comfort.

But it must be pure blood. Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are for sale at all druggists for 50 cents per box, or will be sent to any address, post-paid, on receipt of price.

Place a written order for valuable medical pamphlet, sent free by Hobb's Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

FORT WAYNE'S CELEBRATION

One Hundred Years of City Life Rounded Up.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 15.—The celebration of the 100th anniversary of Fort Wayne's existence as a city, which is to continue for four days, was begun this morning, and thousands are in attendance from Northern Indiana and Northern Ohio.

The celebration was ushered in at 6 o'clock by the firing of a salute of 100 guns. At 10 o'clock the art building, containing relics of pioneer days and art displays, was opened with interesting exercises.

Then the immense bicycle parade was participated in, followed by races and games. The evening's entertainment will be held at the big Princess rink. The address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Oakley. Fort Wayne was never so handsomely or profusely decorated, nor had as large crowds of visitors, as she has today.

CARRIAGE BUILDERS.

National Convention With 500 in Attendance.

Cleveland, Oct. 15.—The annual convention of the National Carriage Builders convened here today, with about 500 in attendance. It includes all the prominent manufacturers of the different branches of the trade throughout the country.

At the morning session today Mayor McKisson delivered an address of welcome. After which the various officers and committees made their annual reports. A committee was appointed to recommend officers for the ensuing year. It is possible that George M. Studenbaker, of South Bend, Ind., will be named as president to succeed President C. M. Britton. Among the other candidates for president are Henry Thimken, of St. Louis, and Henry C. Cover, of Chicago.

RAD FREIGHT WRECK.
Bradford, Pa., Oct. 15.—A bad wreck occurred on the Buffalo division of the Western New York & Pennsylvania railway at 12 o'clock this morning. As a northbound freight train was passing Eldred station the locomotive left the rails and plunged down an embankment, followed by eleven loaded cars. Fireman Jesse Dexter, of Buffalo, was caught beneath the engine and crushed to death. Engineer Brookway and brakeman Hagabue, both of Buffalo, were seriously injured. It is feared the engineer's injuries will prove fatal.

Dainty Ideas for the Decoration of Homes.

Bohemian glass in a new shade of pink is exceedingly dainty and very popular.

Flowering muscades are a favorite design for hand-painted cuffs, collars, fronts, sashes and the like.

Colored diamonds are coming into fashion, and rings, necklaces and pendants are made of some stones that are tinted almost yellow. Black and pink pearls are also fashionable.

Cut glass decanters have reached a very "high and beautiful standard of elegance." The shapes are new, tall, made from Greek models and the engraving exquisite. It was a sin and a shame to put any but choicest wines in such vessels.

Take a piece of olive brown plush twenty inches long and proportionately wide; line it with India rubber cloth. Turn back one end seven and one-eighth inches, making the edges to form a bag for the towel, pockets for comb and brush, button, etc.

One of the newest ideas for adorning the diningroom table is a combination of silk embroidery on linen with fish net. This work involves very little labor and produces very pleasing results. Many of the fish nets closely resemble patterns used for drawn work, and these particular patterns are best suited for the purpose.

Lillian Russell's Wheeling. The luxury of wheeling has been perhaps more fully developed by Miss Lillian Russell than by any other person. Miss Russell believes in doing things thoroughly. She has a stage effect. The dramatic and artistic qualities must be preserved, says the Rochester Post-Express, when the "star" so soon as she takes her maid along. To preserve the balance of the "cast" she also takes along a cavalier.

To keep the artists' utilities in line, the cavalier's shirt and Miss Russell's shirt are made out of the same beautiful pink material, all of which is very unique indeed and decidedly chic. But as Miss Russell's mode of wheeling, as the familiar process of "pumping up" hills is called, is a "pusher," the "pusher" is a particularly powerful and expert wheelman who for a consideration will perform the same service for a lady rider that the "hill horse" does for the street.

When the Russell cavalcade is trundling along on level ground or down hill, the cavalier rides beside her, and the maid and the "pusher" keep respectfully in the rear. When they approach an upgrade the "pusher" spurs forward, places his right hand behind the prima donna's waist and pedaling vigorously sends her gliding up the hill without effort on her part. When the top of the hill is reached he drops back to the rear.

Large One From the Iron Exchange Bank.

It Must Be for Twice the Amount of the County's Deposit.

Bank Shall Then Have Until Feb. 1 to Pay the County.

The county commissioners met again yesterday afternoon and as stated in yesterday's Herald the matter of the $500,000 bond with the Iron Exchange bank came up for discussion. After a good deal of argument a resolution was presented by Commissioner Miller and passed, to the following effect: The sureties and parties interested in the Iron Exchange bank are to furnish additional securities in the sum of $75,000, just twice the amount deposited by the county with the bank, to be subject to the approval of the board.

It is the understanding that the bank shall have until Feb. 1, 1906, to pay the county in full. Cause must be shown for failure to comply with this or for further delay, and the county attorney is appointed a committee of one to determine whether such delay shall be granted with the consent of the board. The new bonds are to be furnished before Nov. 5.

THE COUNTY FINANCES.

The board of audit presented the following report of the state of the county's finances with the Iron Exchange bank, as audited and tax receipts held for shortage, $290,747; certificates of deposit held for sinking funds, $45,316.54; deposited subject to check, $95,000.00; money in suspended credits not taken, town, special road and county poor, $1,729.49; total, $337,772.93. He Thinks One Theater is Enough for Duluth.

Jacob Litt, the theatrical manager, arrived in the city this morning with his "War of Wealth" company, in order to be present at its opening at the Yuccum tonight. When asked what would be done with the bookings he had made for the Temple, Mr. Litt said that the first-class attractions would be transferred to the Yuccum; that is, those that can be taken, and the popular priced ones he will cancel. Mr. Litt will arrange to play the latter at his Twin City houses. He will send no more popular priced attractions to the head of the lake.

Mr. Litt is of the opinion that one theater is enough for Duluth, and says that in cities of this size two theaters never pay well. As it is now, the Yuccum will probably give a fair return on the investment and will be all that the city needs.

"The War of Wealth" company is one of the very best on the road," said Mr. Litt; "in fact there are no better. There are four people in the cast who have until recently been stars. The play, too, is the strongest I have ever sent out, and its success has been tremendous."

They were bowling along a logging road on a hand car. Pearson being seated in a box in front. A team of horses going along the track was turned out to let the car pass. The horses shied suddenly and Mrs. Pearson gave a quick start backward. The handle bar of the car caught her on the back with terrible force, doubling her chest and fracturing the breast bone.

She was taken to Deer river and yesterday was brought home. The injury is not fatal, but is a painful one, and may require an operation.

Clerk Must Refund.

Judge Morris this morning filed findings containing a reading of the new fee law of much importance to attorneys at the Central station. Judge Morris has ruled in favor of the petitioner. C. W. Menellie has sued A. B. Humphreys et al. for $1500 on a note signed by Smith, McMahon & Mitchell bringing the suit.

EXCITING EXPERIENCES.

Paul Sharvy and E. A. Mattix returned yesterday from Bowstring lake, where they have been duck hunting for several weeks. They had quite a time and passed through a very exciting half hour on Bowstring lake. They were out in the middle of the lake when they came upon a flock of ducks, and both started to shoot at the same time. The muzzles of their guns got crossed and Mattix's charge shot six inches off the end of Sharvy's gun. Thus abbreviated the gun shoving was forced down by the shock and its contents went through the bottom of the boat.

The water bubbled merrily through the bottom of the boat, but the hunters stood aghast. They were in the middle of the lake, and that is not a good place to be in a boat with a large hole in the bottom. Sharvy's cap was placed in the breach, and the two pulled for the shore with all the force they could muster.

Meantime the water still continued to leak through in alarming quantities. The shore approached with distressing slowness and the water raised with appalling swiftness. As the water raised the hearts of the hunters sank. Before they reached the shore the stalwart ex-sheriff was compelled to get out of the boat. Not to walk ashore, but to relieve the boat of his weight. With this aid the shore was reached.

That was not the only experience they had. On the way out, they went on ahead, leaving some men they had hired to drive a mule car on a logging road through the swampy country. Among the supplies was a jug containing a curious liquid which is said to have a strong influence upon the human spirits, often giving men the greatest good nature and the most exuberant feelings. It is called by the Indians Muntewakan, spirit water.

The hired men drank up all the curious liquid and felt some to the mule. The mule felt through a culvert and the car ran over him, and when the outfit arrived everything was a motley mass of intoxication and mud.

Notwithstanding this and other marvellous things which happened in the Bowstring country, the hunters chortled between 200 and 400 ducks.

DIVORCE

Episcopal House of Bishops Sits Down on Marriage Dissolution.

Rites of the Church to be Refused to Offending Persons.

Routine of Work of the Great Church Convention
Today.

Minneapolis, Oct. 16.—Among the reports presented at the opening of the morning session of the house of deputies of the Episcopal convention was one from the committee on nominations, naming as the trustees of the general
theological seminary all of the old board and proposing Henry Putt as the successor of Rev. Dr. Hall, deceased. Majority and minority reports on the proposition of the bishops to change the title page of the book of common prayer precipitated a warm discussion.

The bishops desired to insert the words
"according to the American use," rather than insert the whole name of the church. This was interpreted by some as a move toward changing the name of the church. It was also argued that the revision of the prayer book had been completed in 1892 and dropped, and that it would be unwise to take it up again
now.

A vote being taken, the deputies refused to concur in the revision. There was a lively debate over another message from the bishops commending the reference of the canon to the recent revision commission with instructions to report to the next convention. A large element wanted the canon to go to the new commission, to which the constitutional revision was referred yesterday,
but this was not done, and the action of the bishops concurred in.

The house of bishops this morning appointed a commission to prepare a new canon for the marriage of the divorced. The canon, as reported, forbids any minister to solemnize the marriage of any person who has been divorced, unless that person was the innocent party in a divorce granted by the court for adultery. If any minister knows or believes that any one has married otherwise than allowed by the discipline of the church, he may not administer baptism or communion to that person unless death be imminent and the person be penitent, without the consent of the bishop.

The deputies, after a vigorous discussion of the proposed system of provinces under archbishops, which is intended to give the church a judicial system, voted to refer it to the new constitutional commission. Most of the speeches were in favor of the innovation. Rev. Dr. F. W.
Taylor, of Springfield, Ill., described the attempt to erect a province of the without the sanction of the convention and showed how it was handicapped by lack of authority.

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY.

Steps to be Taken to Commence Building.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The board of trustees of the American university convened in special session here today to hear reports, inspect architects plans and make steps for the beginning of building operations. The trustees represented were: President John E.
Ayres, Dr. A. Palmer and Dr. H. H.
Payne, of New York; Dr. C. W.
Boy, of Philadelphia; President W. W.
Smith, of Randolph-Macon college; Dr.
H. Carroll, of Baltimore; Hon. Jacob
Hinkle, of Port Deposit, Md.; Bishop Hilditch, of New York; and several of the Washington trustees.

The treasurer's report showed $380,- 000 subscribed since the last meeting of May. Of this, $12,000 is in valuable real estate. There is $200,000 on hand with which to begin building operations on the hall of history, and a balance of $20,000 subscribed and available at any time as the building progresses.

Next to the hall of history it is proposed to build the hall of languages,
for which Gen. De Peyster, of Tivoli, N.
Y., has donated valuable real estate in the suburbs of New York. In recognition of the gift it has been decided to call the new building the De Peyster hall of languages. The architects' plans for the hall of history and the front elevation of De Peyster hall were exhibited and discussed in detail.

REV. SMITH DENIES IT.
Denver, Col., Oct. 16.—Rev. Frank Hayatt Smith, of Cambridge, Mass., appeared before United States Commissioner Capron today and gave bonds for his appearance at Boston to answer to the charge of sending defamatory letters through the mails. Mr. Smith says the charge is unfounded. He will return to Boston next week to face his accusers.

CLEVELAND'S CABINET MEETS.
Washington, Oct. 16.—All of the members of the cabinet, except Secretary Mortimer, for the first time since the cabinet was reorganized, met at the White House at noon today and the first informal cabinet meeting of several months was held, probably for the purpose of enabling the cabinet officers to report to the president the state of business in their departments.

MUST SHOW AUTHORITY.

Indian Agent Beck Has Another Obstruction.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 16.—William H.
Garrett and John P. Meyer filed an application today for a writ of habeas corpus to secure their release from the custody of the Indian police at Pender.
Garrett and Meyer are held for interference with Indian police while the police were evicting settlers. The relaters petition avers that Agent Beck has no jurisdiction over the strip of territory on which the arrests were made as it is on the part of the so-called reservation lying within Thurston county.

Prior to 1888, the petition states, there was a tribe of Indians living there known as the Winnebago Indians. The tribe was wholly dissolved in 1888, and every member becoming a citizen of the United States. Since that date there has not been a tribe of Indians occupying that territory.

A writ was ordered to issue by Judge
J. C. Woolbridge, of Tyrone, front town,
David St. Cyr, chief of the Indian police, requiring them to appear before the federal court Thursday to show by what authority they hold the prisoners.

FATAL COLLISION.

Due to Confusion in Some Train Orders.

Altoona, Pa., Oct. 16.—Two men were killed and one fatally and several slightly injured in a wreck on the Martinsburg branch of the Pennsylvania railroad today. The dead are:
W. P. Good, of Henrietta, fireman of the Martinsburg train, killed instantly.
J. C. Woolbridge, of Tyrone, front town,
man of the water train, both legs cut off
and head crushed.

The wreck occurred between the Martinsburg mixed train, hauling milk and Altoona shop workmen and a water train consisting of several tank cars had been ordered to proceed to the "X" switches of the water train. The water train Altoona shops, and was just pulling from a siding to the water train when the collision came around the curve at full speed.

The collision completely demolished both locomotives and smashed several of the tank cars. The passenger cars kept the track. David Arthur, of Altoona, engineer of the Martinsburg train, was badly scalded and injured internally, cannot recover. Henry Jones, of Altoona, a passenger, was thrown through a door and painfully injured. Benjamin Myland, Altoona, was thrown from the train and killed. Conductor Davis, of the Altoona train, escaped with slight injuries. A number of others were more or less cut by flying glass.

The wrecking crew is responsible for the accident which is the most serious ever occurred on the Altoona division.

mail from Tokio, Japan, dated Sept.
25, state that Japan has been forced to comply with Russian demands for troops from Liao Tung, France and Germany joined in the demand and the Japanese government was not in a position to resist the combined powers.
This proceeding has caused renewed bitterness in Japan against Europeans.
The Japanese also charge their own minister with connivance at the nation's dishonor.

There is a feeling of hostility toward foreigners in China is said to be rapidly increasing. Additional casualties are reported. The meeting at Ku Chen-g conducted in flagrant defiance of orders. The American citizens who were present at the meeting for the appointment of a commission to investigate the Sze Chuan outrages are beginning to feel the effects of the measure.
The Sze Chuan affair is almost forgot.

It is felt that whatever energy is to be shown by the United States government should be directed to a more useful purpose than the appointment of damages for missionary property destroyed. Immediate action of a much more decided nature is imperatively required. Questions of life and death are imminent, and it is felt that pecuniary considerations must be deferred.

LOYAL LEGION.

Gen. John Gibbons Elected as Grand Commander.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The Loyal Legion of the United States met in annual session here today. Gen. Lucius Fairchild, grand commander, presiding. There were seventy-seven delegates present representing every state of the Union, except Oregon. There were aspirants to the election of the office of grand commander.

First ballot: Gen. Miles, 37; Gen.
John Gibbons, 16; Gen. Swaine, 11.
Gen. Gibbons' name being dropped,
Gen. Gibbons was elected on the second ballot, receiving 90 votes to 29 for Gen.
Miles. Gen. Miles lacked only one vote of election on the first ballot, and it is believed would have succeeded on the second, but for the superior age of Gen. Gibbons, which influenced many of the delegates who otherwise would have cast for Miles, to vote for Gibbons.

A committee consisting of Gen.
Hubbard and Varney, Maj. Hayden and Col. Woodward and Davis was appointed to pass upon the eligibility of applicants to membership.

THE POPULIST CONVENTION.
Kansas City, Oct. 16.—The conven-ces of the Populist state committee met here today. The state have adopted resolutions expressing a preference for Kansas as the site for the convention of the next national convention of that party. In case the convention is not held in this city they preferred St.
Louis.

EL PASO'S FIGHT PROPOSITION.
El Paso, Tex., Oct. 16.—A telegram has been received from Stewart stating that the fight will be pulled off in El Paso if this city would pay for the Mexican concession. At a meeting of the business men of El Paso, $15,000 was subscribed to pay for the concession.

FESTIVAL

Milwaukee Opens Her Semi-Centennial Celebration
This Morning.

A Great Parade—Myriads of Flags and Miles of Decoration.

Denver, Too, Has a Celebration With Unique Patriotic Display.

Milwaukee, Oct. 16.—The loud booming of cannon, the ringing of bells and the tooting of whistles announced to the world that the day and the hour of Milwaukee's semi-centennial celebration had arrived, while yet the red outline of the sun was barely discernible through the morning mists. The sun shone as bright as though it was trying to make a special effort for the occasion, and the atmosphere was almost as balmy as a spring day. As if by magic the decorations of yesterday had doubled and trebled during the night, and from end to end the city was gay with holiday attire.

Flags floated from every house-top that was provided with a staff, and streamers and festoons decked every street. Thousands and thousands of people lined the sidewalks along the line of march of the civic and military parade. The throng was augmented by every incoming train from suburban towns, and by noon the principal thoroughfares were livelier than they were ever known to be in the history of the city. The big parade was the event of the morning. It was past noon before it was over and the crowd stood for hours on the sidewalks to see the soldiers and the governors and the various societies and to hear the music of the endless bands.

For the old settlers the reception at the Academy of Music was the event of the day, and dozens of them came down hours before it opened to be to be on time. The building was crowded to the top, and there were thousands who would have been glad to have attended
if they could have got in. The festivities of the day will end with the great bicycle parade tonight, which will attract even greater crowds than the day parade,
and the general illumination of the city.

Streets may have been as well decorated, but it is certain that there never was a time when such an illumination of the city and tonight the streets were lit up with the light of the festivities of the day will end with the great bicycle parade tonight, which will attract even greater crowds than the day parade, and the general illumination of the city.

Mr. Eldredge charged that it is reputation of debt, and not coinage that
the 16 to 1 man is after, and said as the country is in no danger of repudiation. This 16 to 1 coinage clamor is but one of the manifestations of hard times, brought on by the late panic. On low lands, in the night time, a deadly misadventure happened, but when the bright sun shines over the hills and shoots his purifying rays into the bottom, the miasma is dispersed. The atmosphere is sweetened and made wholesome, and men go forth to their daily avocations with assurance of health.

In spite of all the ills that have afflicted us in spite of demagogues on the stump and in the legislative halls, the country is rapidly advancing. Our factories are taxed to their utmost with orders, and wages of their employees have been everywhere voluntarily raised.
Prices which have been in the habit of depressing the panic are improving. Sinister discontent
all hell is rising before the benign presence of prosperity, and in after years
the heresies of today will only be reminders of a troubled dream.

American people are honest and patriotic. Upon this rock we build our future, and all the ages and agencies of truth
are ours for the superstructure.

Pastry made with Dr. Price's baking powder is never sour or soggy.

DENVER CELEBRATES.

Mountain and Plain Festival Started There Today.

Denver, Oct. 16.—Denver is in a blaze of glory today, the first of the annual festival of Mountain and Plain, inaugurated this year. The weather is glorious and the city is in a state of jubilation.
The festival is a grand affair, and the city is in a state of jubilation. The festival is a grand affair, and the city

PLACE FOR PLOUGH.

General Manager of Central Railroad of Georgia.

St. Paul, Oct. 16.—It is reported that
A. B. Plough, vice president and general manager of the St. Paul & Duluth road, has been tendered the position of general manager of the Central railroad of Georgia. The Central railroad of Georgia is an extensive system, having nearly 400 miles of track, and many of them important ones, leading to the larger cities in the South. The road is in the hands of the court.
One of the receivers is R. Somers Hayes, the president of the St. Paul & Duluth, who resides in New York, and has a number of railroad and business interests.

Mr. Plough is at present in the South in company with President Hayes and William H. Merritt, of Atlanta, to see him placed in charge of a larger field than that covered by the St. Paul & Duluth.

BANKERS MEETING.

Banker Eldredge Favors the Gold Standard.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 16.—The American Bankers' association assembled this morning pursuant to last night's adjournment and resumed the consideration of various addresses and papers.
Mr. Eldredge delivered a long address,
of which the following is a synopsis:

"The proposition that this government should coin silver for the world, in unlimited amount, at double its market value is so repugnant to the common sense of mankind," said Mr. Eldredge,
"that it ought to be unnecessary to discuss it. It would be but for the fact that a portion of our people have been misled by prejudice and by the suspicious reasonings of sophists.

He pointed out that the leading nations of the earth, after testing silver for hundreds of years voluntarily adopted the single gold standard, and that no nation
today has the silver standard for choice.
The gold standard advocates believe in gold as a standard with the largest possible safe use of silver among the people. The 16 to 1-dramers believe in the so-called double standard, and we are driven by this law to the use of silver alone. All gold standard countries use large amounts of silver and no silver standard country uses any gold whatever.

As the practical question is the use of the metals, it follows that we are the monometallists. Hence the battle that is to be fought to a finish next year is whether we will remain under a gold standard, with actual bimetalism in use among the people, gold and silver circulating freely without discrimination against either, or shall we have a so-called double standard at the mints and nowhere else, with silver monometallism in actual use? The battle is between substance and shadow, between those who want bimetalism in fact and those who want it in name only.

We are the friends of silver money,
who would bring to its aid the power of the government to keep it good, and they are its enemies who, by unlimited coinage, would take from it the guaranty of parity by the government, and thereby degrade it to its market value. Our government has been under the law, it can restrict the amount coined, and being vested with this control, it undertakes to make every dollar good money.

The moment the government loses a silver dollar, then it rests on its merits and is worth but 30 cents. With refusa-lism of the contention that gold has appreciated and depreciated prices, he pointed out that no two articles have declined at the same time or in the same degree, nor has any article mentioned remained uniformly depressed, and therefore but one controlling cause can be pointed to for this result.

Interest has declined since 1872 in part of the country from 3 per cent per month to 6 and 8 per cent per annum.
There is no denying the fact that the gold standard did that. Interest is always low under an honest standard, and an honest coinage, where money is plentiful. It is lower in London than in any other spot on the globe, because her standard is stable, and her commercial integrity has been the care of her statesmen and her people for ages past.

Mr. Eldredge charged that it is reputation of debt, and not coinage that
the 16 to 1 man is after, and said as the country is in no danger of repudiation. This 16 to 1 coinage clamor is but one of the

LEO'S LETTER.

Pope Clearly Condemns Congresses of Religion.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—Pope Leo has written an important letter to the Roman Catholic hierarchy of America condemning the assemblage of congresses of religion. The letter has been delivered to Archbishop Ryan, of this city, and to all other archbishops. It was the main subject considered at the recent assembling of the archbishops at Washington, but the efforts at reconciliation were unsuccessful in keeping the pope's letter from publicity.

What steps the archbishops took cannot be learned, but with the views of the pope thus clearly expressed, it is doubtless that the American church will anathematize congresses of religion in the same way that all interdenominational congresses of religion. The letter was placed on Catholic participation in the Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and other secret societies. The congress of religions held at Chicago as a feature of the World's fair, was the most notable gathering of that character in recent years, bringing together not only the many sects of Christianity but also Hindus, Brahmins, Buddhists and the theosophists.

The gathering was so notable that its projectors have expected it would lead to further congresses merging all sects and creeds. Whether Pope Leo's disapproval is particularly in reference to the Chicago conference cannot be learned, but as it was the last, the letter will be viewed with special reference to it.

STATE WEATHER SERVICE.

Indianapolis, Oct. 16.—The fourth annual convention of the American association of state weather service began in the capitol this morning. Maj. H. H. C.
Dunwoode, of Washington, president of the association, presided. There are about forty delegates present, representing as many states. The convention will discuss many important questions.
Among these are: How best to secure and retain the services of voluntary observers; what can be done to improve weekly weather crop bulletins, and to increase their value; what interests are being served by these bulletins.

SECRECY

Hot Springs Fight Managers Had an Executive Session Last Night.

Gov. Clarke Believed to Have Been Trying a Big Bluff.

The Chief Executive Scheduled to Arrive at Hot Springs Today.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 16.—A conference of the citizens committee and officials of the Florida association was held at the Arlington hotel last night. Gen.
Taylor was before the committee, and then to him was submitted the revised articles of agreement and the five-ounce gloves. Whatever was accomplished by the committee is being kept a profound secret. But the plans of procedure agreed upon will doubtless be in possession of the public before many hours.

Mayor Waters was in conference, and upon being asked to give the result emphatically refused to do so, saying that the lines of procedure agreed upon were to be kept from the press. That there were some things that the newspapers should not have and could not obtain from him especially. The mayor indicated that there will be some early and interesting developments, as a result of the conference.

Governor Clarke is expected to arrive in the city this afternoon for the purpose of looking over the situation and taking whatever action the situation justifies.
In view of the determination expressed by the governor to arrest either Corbett or Fitzsimmons on their arrival in the state, and that Corbett has been here almost twenty-four hours, and has not been placed in custody, gives color to the belief that the governor was playing a game of bluff when he made the threat contained in his letter of a few days ago and which was addressed to the gentleman who is the subject of the rest have been attached, as he was not looking for a soft glove contest—where there are doubts as to the decision declining which is the champion, he or Corbett. The big five-ounce gloves which they propose to use in the fight have been submitted to Taylor for inspection. They looked as large as baby pillows and as harmless as a kitten. The members of the prize fighting committee have put in an appearance. Peter Maher and Steve O'Donnell came in on the same train last night, as did Corbett. O'Donnell and party stopped off at Spring Lake,
three miles down the road, and went directly to the training quarters that have been selected for them.

The conference is to be held in the private rooms of M. G. Hayes, from which reporters will be excluded. The governor appears to be in a jolly humor, and referred in a humorous way to the proposed glove contest as liable to cause more murders in Garland county than Judge Duffie could well attend to in the next forty years. He then made a better offer to him to adjourn court this afternoon and be present at the conference.

A member of the conference which was held behind closed doors at the Arlington hotel last night said that
P. Taylor was perfectly satisfied by the committee that the proposed contest would not be of a brutal character, and he hoped that they would be able to so convince Governor Clark at the conference to be held at 2 o'clock. The large five-ounce gloves will be shown the governor in substantiation of the claim that neither contestants could possibly receive bodily harm through

THE DULUTH BISHOPRIC.

The house of bishops of the Episcopal church has agreed to the proposition to set aside the northern part of Minnesota as a missionary district, to be known as the diocese of Duluth. The house of deputies will probably also give its approval to the proposition. It is stated, however, that it is not likely a bishop will be elected this year, but the reason for this has not been announced. It may be because sufficient funds have not yet been secured to support the episcopate and the delay is to give the people of the district an opportunity to attend to this important matter. The boundaries of the new district are: That part of the diocese of Minnesota, north of the southern line of the counties of Big Stone, Stevens, Pope, Stearns, Benton, Miller, Lac, Kanabec and Pine.

It will be somewhat of a disappointment if a bishop is not elected this year. It is quite certain that the selection of a bishop would aid greatly in the securing of a suitable endowment fund. An excellent start in this direction has been made already.

In this connection, a fact of interest to Duluth Episcopalians may be mentioned. The convention has decided not to elect a bishop of Alaska at present, but to put the territory in the missionary district of Olympia and give Bishop Barker, of Olympia, jurisdiction over it. His title will be bishop of Olympia and Alaska. Bishop Barker will be remembered as the former rector of St. Paul's, in this city, preceding Dr. Ryan.

TOKEN VS. STANDARD MONEY.

The St. Paul Dispatch, which has been a regular week-cock on the money question—at one time veering toward bimetalism, and another turning towards gold monometallism—is at present inclined towards the gold side of the question. Like many other papers that undertake to discuss the money question, it is woefully ignorant. It is apparently not to appreciate the great point in all the controversy that the difference between token money and standard money. Referring to the statements of bimetalists that silver was struck down by adverse legislation, the Dispatch says:

"Nothing was done by the repeal of the Sherman act of 1890 (except to abolish the purchasing clause. No other part of the law was disturbed. The act, outside of that clause, among other things, directed the secretary of the treasury to coin as many silver dollars from the bullion in the treasury as may be necessary to provide for the redemption of the notes issued by him or his predecessor for the purchase of silver bullion as provided in the purchasing clause of the act. Consequently, the secretary of the treasury has been coining silver dollars under that act, and the coinage last year was nearly half as much as the total coinage of silver dollars since 1873. The original value of these silver notes was $15,000,000. The redemption in silver up to the close of September was $12,500,722, leaving outstanding and unredeemed about $2,500,000. Why is not the whole amount of outstanding Sherman silver notes redeemed? Simply because the people prefer to have, handle and use the silver certificates, the paper, than the cumbersome, clumsy silver dollars themselves."

There is no demand for silver dollars because the silver dollar now is merely subsidiary money. Until the act of 1873 was passed every owner of silver that could be mined in the United States or procured from any part of the world was potential redemption money. Gold, after 1873, became the sole standard of value; the silver in circulation was merely a subsidiary money. It is not to be expected that there will be a demand for the silver dollars in the treasury so long as they remain merely token money. Paper money—the silver certificates—are just as good as the silver dollars under the existing conditions. But restore silver to its rightful place as standard money; place it on an equality with gold, the place where it stood up to 1873, and there will be no ground for complaint about the silver dollars going into circulation.

THE GENERAL SENTIMENT.

A Duluth man has just received a letter from a Chicago gentleman, in which he says: "On visiting various cities I must say, even including our own city, that in my judgment the reaction in real estate is sure to strike Duluth first, as in all cities I have visited, both North and South, I heard more warm words for Duluth than any other."

This seems to be the general sentiment all over the country, and if our own citizens can be brought to a realization of what is in store for them in the near future and act accordingly, outside capital will soon commence coming here in a larger volume than ever before. At such a time as this Duluth can not afford croakers and pessimists. Out with them!

THE NINCOMPOOP VARIETY.

The Grand Rapids Herald gives some of the other country papers a great scolding because they but revolve the sentiment of their party papers in St. Paul, which in turn represent the political and personal interests of the politicians of the party. For Minnesota the Pioneer Press does the thinking for a vast majority of the state Republican papers, and the same is true of the St. Paul Globe from a Democratic standpoint. The little fellows in the country, with rare exceptions, says the Grand Rapids paper, have no ideas that they can call their own, and few of them appear to have any ambition to acquire knowledge.

"Let an intimate friend ask any one of them," continues the Herald, "on the quiet what he knows about the basic principles of our medium of exchange and what relation, in his opinion, would the free coinage of silver bear to the trade and commerce of the world, and it's ten to one that he would admit that he hasn't the slightest conception—hasn't had time to give the matter much consideration. And yet these same nincompoops will rattle around through the columns of a country sheet with a lot of meaningless, borrowed expressions and stereotyped lies in a self-opinionated manner not assumed by men of ripe scholarship who have given the subject years of honest study. The St. Cloud Journal-Press, Little Falls Transcript, Brainerd Dispatch, Wadena Pioneer and a few others might be mentioned as representatives of the nincompoop variety. They have an abiding faith in the ability of politicians to stultify public thought, and just now they are staking their immediate future upon the success of that element in the next Republican state and congressional conventions as against men like Towne and the people."

THE NORTHWESTERN EXPOSITION.

The Red Wing Republican adds its hearty endorsement to the proposition to hold a great Northwestern exposition in 1897 or 1898. Discussing the idea, the Republican says: "When first broached, the idea was regarded as the idle scheme of some visionary. But from the moment that the people began to look at it from practical points of view, they saw its strong features. At first doubtful, they soon began to be enthusiastic. No one can contemplate all that this would do for the Northwest and not feel that to neglect such an opportunity would be a terrible blunder. The excellence of the suggestion is witnessed by the approval of representative newspapers, which have no other interest in it than its merit can command."

After reciting to the manner in which the exposition has been endorsed by papers holding widely different views of public matters, the Republican adds: "We do not believe that there will be a discordant or dissentient voice, unless it may be that of some of the old fogies who have not yet found out that they are dead. The Northwestern exposition is a good thing. Push it along. It is reported that Governor Clough will soon issue an invitation to the governors of the several states interested to send representatives to the capital of Minnesota to consider the plan seriously and agree upon a plan of action. This is the way to begin, and a good beginning cannot be made too soon."

In this connection The Herald would urge the commercial bodies of Duluth to take an active interest in the matter. It is not unlikely that Governor Clough will also request the commercial organizations throughout the Northwest to send delegates to this preliminary meeting, and Duluth should be well represented upon that occasion. An effort should be made to get at least one Duluth man upon the directory that will have charge of the exposition.

There was a great mass meeting in Detroit last week, attended by 5,000 people, representing all classes of the citizens, who called upon Mayor Duggan to become a candidate for another term. He has already served six years as mayor, and the indications are that he will serve a fourth term. Mr. Duggan has been active in looking after the interests of his city. He secured a splendid electric lighting plant for Detroit, was instrumental in having the gas reduced to 80 cents per 100, and secured a 1-cent fare on the electric street railways. His popularity is not abating.

The college graduate is a statesman among the water. Oxford counts him a statesman in Lord Salisbury's cabinet, four of them Christ Church men; Cambridge has three, all from Trinity, and Dublin one. In Mr. Gladstone's cabinet eight were Oxford men and six Cambridge. The average age of the present cabinet is 53; that of Mr. Gladstone was 56, and after he resigned, 54. By including nineteen ministers in his cabinet, Lord Salisbury has made it the largest of the century.

According to the gossip at the state capitol, Hon. R. G. Evans, of Minneapolis, will not be a candidate for governor because he pledged himself to Capt. Van Sant last winter. This is old news. It was stated by The Herald some time ago, but supposing Capt. Van Sant retired from the field? Suppose Mr. Evans' friends insist on his running? Would he not be justified in according to their request, particularly as they can demonstrate that Van Sant has no show? One thing is certain: "Rob" Evans is the only Republican who can carry Hennepin county against Governor Clough.

The relics of war Nelson recently sold in London, were offered to the British government some time ago for $25,000. The offer was refused, but the government afterwards bought in some of the relics, including the orders and decorations worn by the hero of the Nile at the moment he was killed on the deck of his ship, the Victory. But the gold sword hilt, gold boxes containing the freedom of cities, pieces of massive plate and other interesting historic relics were elsewhere. "Whoa Nelson? What do people care about Nelson nowadays?" asks the Ironical London Telegraph.

The New York Times contains the idea that women novelists do not make good wives, and it instances the case of Miss Braddon, the veteran of the sensational novel, who is reputed to be in her private capacity, and when she has scrubbed the ink off her thumbs, a British matron of the strictest sort. As a matter of fact, the Boston Herald gets to the root of the debate when it maintains that women novelists are very much like their sex in general. Some of them make good wives and some of them do not. And the same rule applies to the other sex.

A tailor named Schwartz testified in New York last Saturday that he paid a friend named Schoonholt $40 to set fire to a house in which were persons sleeping who might be burned to death, and the insurance money at stake only $500. It is gratifying that we have a good stiff law against incendiaries, and that the courts are disposed to punish offenders to the limit. But says the St. Paul Star, says it, it would be still more gratifying if such crimes were classified under those to which the death penalty applies.

Cuba has a population of about 1,500,000, not more than half the population of Ohio. Upon this handful of people Spain has by her mad government imposed an indebtedness of more than $100,000,000. The island is a vast country, the entire wealth of the island by many millions. The people of the island have for years been handicapped and gagged by being required to sell their products only in such markets as the home government prescribed. Is it any wonder that they are fighting for freedom from perpetual slavery?

How surprised ex-Governor Merrill asked him whether he was a candidate for vice president? "You must have read that in a newspaper," he said, with his horse laugh, as he shoved out a nickel cigar to the reporter.

The Chicago Dispatch refers to Governor Clough as "the governor of Minneapolis." This is something about which there is considerable doubt. There are Minneapolis men who dispute the assertion.

CUPID SAYS "HELLO."
You can't keep Cupid down. The little god of love has put the telephone upon a wedding at Milford, N. J. Yesterday, in which the telephone traced in several New York, American, Westchester and other bionics would have been regarded as the idle scheme of some visionary. But from the moment that the people began to look at it from practical points of view, they saw its strong features. At first doubtful, they soon began to be enthusiastic. No one can contemplate all that this would do for the Northwest and not feel that to neglect such an opportunity would be a terrible blunder. The excellence of the suggestion is witnessed by the approval of representative newspapers, which have no other interest in it than its merit can command."

After reciting to the manner in which the exposition has been endorsed by papers holding widely different views of public matters, the Republican adds: "We do not believe that there will be a discordant or dissentient voice, unless it may be that of some of the old fogies who have not yet found out that they are dead. The Northwestern exposition is a good thing. Push it along. It is reported that Governor Clough will soon issue an invitation to the governors of the several states interested to send representatives to the capital of Minnesota to consider the plan seriously and agree upon a plan of action. This is the way to begin, and a good beginning cannot be made too soon."

"SADDEST OF THE YEAR."
But Fall Days Need Not Be Sad if People Will Not Make Them So.

The fall days are rapidly passing, and before long winter will be upon us. Now is the time to consider whether we are prepared to withstand the dangers to which we must be exposed during the coming season. Even perfectly healthy people are liable to be attacked by the colds of fall and early winter. There is malaria in the atmosphere and few people are aware of the lurking danger. Under these circumstances some of the germs of disease, restore the health and promote the general vitality. For this purpose nothing is so effective as the best physicians in the land. Their health and strength to this splendid preparation. Among the best is Dr. J. M. V. who says: "I have been using Dr. J. M. V. for a long time. It has done me a great deal of good. It has increased my appetite which I lost through overwork."

Such outspoken testimony as this Dr. J. M. V. gives in every way the description of a perfectly reliable, health-giving, strengthening and invigorating, universally popular and has made friends of it everywhere. It is a fact that this reason is not in getting Dr. J. M. V. for not let your grocer ask for it and do not let the morning about an hour earlier than the other, and after experiencing a difficulty in awakening one day purchased a high-strength and alarm clock. That night he wound up a small clock and placed it on a chair beside the bed and was soon wrapped in slumber.

The morning he awoke with a quick start as the clock struck twelve. He had run down struck a match to ascertain the time. The face of the clock was away from the bed and he got up in order to see it. That made him mad and he turned to his room-mate and said: "I have been thinking of playing such a trick on him. The latter protested his innocence and affairs were thereby settled. The next morning the same thing occurred and then he was as mad as a hornet. He jumped out of bed and there was a lively scrap but no serious consequences. On the third morning he awoke with a quick start as the clock struck twelve. He had run down struck a match to ascertain the time. ## DEFENSES

Health Inspector Debow Denies Some Accusations Made Against Him.

Claims He Has Been Vigilant In Keeping West Duluth Clean.

There is Also Considerable Kicking In Relation To Infectious Diseases.

Health Inspector Debow denies the accusation in the morning paper that he is delinquent in his duty in attending to the cleaning of the yards and alleys. He says that there is but one place from which any complaint can arise, and that is in the alley in the rear of the Manufacturers bank. The condition of this alley at this point, he says, has been reported to headquarters and he has done all in his power to have the stagnant water drawn off.

Mr. Debow seems to be in a peck of trouble, as there has also been kicking in regard to the handling of infectious diseases, and it is reported that a communication has been sent to the health department in regard to the matter.

Dr. Routh was here a few days ago in response to certain complaints which were sent in regard to scarlet fever cases. Two families have been infected with the disease, and it is charged that a young lady from one of the places is permitted to leave the house and herd cattle each day, and is thereby brought into contact with other children. There is quite a commotion stirred up in the neighborhood over the affair, and according to present appearances the end is not yet.

Business Men's Association Is Receiving Many Members.

At the regular meeting of the new Business Men's association, to be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Chamber of Commerce, there promises to be a lively discussion over the reports of the committees on constitution and bylaws and on statistics. A portion of the members believe that the less constitution and red tape there is about the association the more effective will be the work, while the balance are in favor of an elaborate constitution. A director will be elected to replace William E. Lucas, who is unable to serve, and the bylaws committee will probably provide for the election of a vice president.

For a new organization the association is prospering remarkably, and since the last meeting the following names have been added to the membership list: M. D. Dyer, A. E. Wolcott, J. T. Armstrong, J. Her Venezuelan Policy Will be Firm and Quite Vigorous.

The Frontier Will be Held by Force if it is Necessary.

Guns, Military and Police Protection Will Be Increased.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The St. James' Gazette this afternoon made some highly sensational statements regarding Venezuela which seemed to show that the dispute between the republic and Great Britain has assumed a very grave aspect. It says that since the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain assumed office as secretary for the colonies he has paid close personal attention to the relations between Great Britain and Venezuela, and that he has taken the initiative in directing in part the administration of the affairs of the British colony of Guiana, adjoining Venezuela.

Mr. Chamberlain's hand, it appears, has been felt in the local executive council, and the St. James' Gazette adds: "We are now enabled to give the tenor of a remarkable dispatch in which he outlined the imperial policy towards the colonies. The document is of much importance, inasmuch as it was followed by a cablegram from Mr. Chamberlain to the governor of British Guiana, Sir Charles Cameron Lees, K. C. M. G., in which he has taken the initiative in directing in part the administration of the affairs of the British colony of Guiana, adjoining Venezuela.

The more fact that Mr. Chamberlain has issued instructions for the defense of the frontier in this manner is positive proof that the imperial government will not tolerate a repetition of the Uruguayan incident, and that it intends to hold the frontier within the Schomburgk line, by force if necessary.

"In this dispatch Mr. Chamberlain advances special facilities for gold mining, and urges the cutting of a road from the Upper Barima river to Cumuti, pointing out its importance from a military point of view, as it would enable the government to keep more closely in touch with the frontier, and to prevent any Venezuelan aggression, adding that, in view of the possibility of early and rapid expansion of gold mining, it will be necessary to provide adequately for the protection of the Northwestern territory, and to increase the number of military and police as well as the erection of barracks on the frontier."

RELIEF FOR LA PAZ.

Mexico Will Help the Distressed City.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 18.—Finance Minister Lamantour has announced the intention of the Mexican government to contribute to the relief of La Paz, Lower California, sufferers. Only four persons so far have been reported to the government as known have lost their lives. But there are many persons missing. Some of these may be alive, and others may be dead. The number injured is very large. Not one of the few buildings which escaped the fury of the elements have a roof. Every ship in the bay, with one exception, was driven ashore and dashed to pieces.

Minister Lamantour asked an immediate appropriation of $5000 to alleviate the necessities of the sufferers. The minister also asked the deputies to exempt from professional taxes all Lower California during the rest of the current year. The bill was referred immediately to the finance committee, which reported favorably and extended the exemption from taxes to four months. The house passed the measure unanimously and sent it to the senate.

The epidemic is ended. Eighty cases and sixty-two deaths are reported from the Hawaiian Islands. The epidemic is ended. Eighty cases and sixty-two deaths are reported from the Hawaiian Islands.

Such a declaration from the pope was one of the most important utterances in American affairs in recent years. It was received by Monsignor Sattoli about the time of the recent assemblage here of the archbishops, and a copy was furnished to each of them, but the manufactured pope's letter does not contain the essential points of the real letter—the condemnation of congresses of religion—and the pope's signature to a document which is pronounced a fake at the papal delegation.

CAVALRY OFFICERS TRANSFERRED. Washington, Oct. 17.—An order was issued from the war department transferring Lieut. Col. S. M. Whitford from the Fifth cavalry, at Jefferson barracks, to the Third cavalry at San Antonio, Tex., and Lieut. Col. C. V. Hovey from the Third to the Fifth cavalry. This transfer closes a fifth that has been much talked in Western army circles.

FATAL MINE FIRE.

Caused by a Careless Frightened Workman.

Franklin, Wash., Oct. 18.—Pine broke out last night in the main building of the Oregon Improvement company's mine causing the death of John H. Glover, S. W. Smalley, John Adams and James Stafford. The accident was caused by a careless frightened workman who dropped his lamp, setting fire to a sewer gas. Instead of throwing a shovel of dirt to put it out, he ran down the slope to get the pit forked.

While he was securing help, the timbers caught fire and five lengths of brattice work were ablaze and the smoke became so intense as to prevent getting at it. Finding that the fire could not be extinguished, the men volunteered to go down and close a door between the main and auxiliary shafts. They are said to have reached the bottom alive, but the bodies have not been recovered.

A FAKE LETTER.

One Which Makes Sattoli's Secretary Angry.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Monsignor Sattoli and the other officials of the papal delegation here were astonished to see today in the Washington Times an alleged text of a letter from Pope Leo XIII. to the American church and commanding the success of Monsignor Sattoli's mission. The letter, which was received by the delegation, was a fake. The delegation received the letter, which was a fake. The delegation received the letter, which was a fake.

The text of the letter and the appended signature of Pope Leo are said by the officials to be made out of whole cloth. In presenting the letter—the letter, the writer has adopted the usual dignified and formal phraseology of letters coming from the pope. The letter is made to speak as "we," which is the usual custom. It closes with the signature, "Leo XIII." The letter is the eighteenth year of our pontificate.

The only manner in which the "fake" letter can be accounted for by the officials is that it was an effort to present another existing of another subject. The substance of this actual letter from the pope was given yesterday in the dispatches from Philadelphia. The letter was received by Monsignor Sattoli about the time of the recent assemblage here of the archbishops, and a copy was furnished to each of them, but the manufactured pope's letter does not contain the essential points of the real letter—the condemnation of congresses of religion—and the pope's signature to a document which is pronounced a fake at the papal delegation.

Annual Address of President Frances E. Willard at Baltimore.

At Opening of the Twenty-Second Annual Convention Today.

She Pleads for the "New Man" as a Desired Article.

Baltimore, Oct. 18.—The twenty-second annual convention of the World's Christian Women's Christian Temperance union opened here today with a large attendance. The feature of the proceedings was the address of President Frances E. Willard, of both organizations.

The constantly increasing participation of women in all the affairs of the world is of the utmost significance for good. When women are transplanted from the conservatory of seclusion into the great open garden of common life, it is well known that students of the world's great problems must be more refined and its purpose more protecting. Mother and child are rapidly becoming the central figures of the world's great problems.

But what the world waits for is not the new woman alone, but the new man. The new man is the one who is not a parent but a heartstone does not make a home. We must stop to think of the world as it is now. Without a Mother? and to put in its place: The Father Alone Can Make the Home. If we are to have a new man, we must have a new woman. The new woman is the one who is not a parent but a heartstone does not make a home. We must stop to think of the world as it is now. The woman's department of the Atlanta exposition and the great congress of women held in the further South are other tokens hardly less significant. That good bishop and other ministers who have spoken unkindly of the progressive woman movement do not represent the guild to which they belong. It is time that those who in church, state and society are the enemies of the woman's movement should be brought to the attention of the world. The woman's movement is the universal solvent, bringing brotherhood to the world.

Baltimore, Oct. 18.—The twenty-second annual convention of the World's Christian Women's Christian Temperance union opened here today with a large attendance. The feature of the proceedings was the address of President Frances E. Willard, of both organizations.

The constantly increasing participation of women in all the affairs of the world is of the utmost significance for good. When women are transplanted from the conservatory of seclusion into the great open garden of common life, it is well known that students of the world's great problems must be more refined and its purpose more protecting. Mother and child are rapidly becoming the central figures of the world's great problems.

But what the world waits for is not the new woman alone, but the new man. The new man is the one who is not a parent but a heartstone does not make a home. We must stop to think of the world as it is now. Without a Mother? and to put in its place: The Father Alone Can Make the Home. If we are to have a new man, we must have a new woman. The new woman is the one who is not a parent but a heartstone does not make a home. We must stop to think of the world as it is now. The woman's department of the Atlanta exposition and the great congress of women held in the further South are other tokens hardly less significant. That good bishop and other ministers who have spoken unkindly of the progressive woman movement do not represent the guild to which they belong. It is time that those who in church, state and society are the enemies of the woman's movement should be brought to the attention of the world. THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS.
The brief history of the Christian Endeavor movement furnishes a striking illustration of the power of organization and the possibilities of Christian life when left free to organize itself. The youth of the church is here enlisted for aggressive service, and in the common union of the 35,000 local societies scattered throughout the country is the source of their great strength. The society is interdenominational. It is a foe to sectarianism, but a friend of warm-hearted denominationalism, as the denominational rallies at the convention which met in Duluth this morning and will continue until Sunday evening, there will be found a religious enthusiasm that was never witnessed in the history of the Christian church until the Endeavor society made its appearance, and under the inspiration of Rev. Francis E. Clarke, united together all the independent local organizations and made them feel the power of a common life. Wherever the conventions of the Christian Endeavor society are held, the results are beneficial to the city in which they meet. No one can attend their meetings, no one can come in contact with this enthusiastic band of Christian workers, without being inspired to lead a better life.

In the North American Review of September, Dr. F. E. Clarke had an article in defense of the Christian Endeavor movement, although why it should require any defense is not very clear. In this article, Dr. Clarke tells the history of the society. It has often been remarked, he says, that a history of the Society of Christian Endeavor is a story of great religious conventions. The first great convention, so far as numbers were concerned, was the one held in Chicago in 1888. Five thousand, it is thought, attended this meeting, and though not a tenth part of the numbers found at present conventions, that was then considered a most surprising gathering, and was declared by more than one religious writer to be the largest religious gathering ever held in the history of the Christian church. Philadelphia welcomed 7000 the next year. St. Louis 11,000 in 1890. Minneapolis 14,000 in 1891. New York 30,000 in 1892. With each succeeding year as the throngs grew larger the conventions excited more and more attention. The personnel of these conventions is as remarkable as the numbers brought together. Strong young business men, students from our colleges and academies, maidens from all ranks of society, but all intelligent and purposeful, abound everywhere. The proportion of young men at these conventions is a very striking feature. A journal devoted to the interests of women has recently declared that of the 20,000 who attended the convention in Boston, 50,000 were young women. "This," says Dr. Clarke, "is a huge mistake, though if the statement were true I do not mean to intimate that the fact would be derogatory to the convention. But as a matter of fact, nearly if not quite one-half, certainly of those who came from a distance, are young men."

SHOULD COURT INQUIRY.
The Minneapolis Journal complains that somebody in St. Paul is sending out dispatches to Chicago and Eastern papers stating that the state census will be overhailed by the next legislature, and that the Minneapolis count will be investigated because "it is believed to have been padded to the extent of 18,000 or 20,000." Then it attacks vigorously the author of these dispatches and incidentally takes a whack at the Pioneer Press; and winds up by tearfully remarking that "these little stabs only serve to expose the malice of those who make them."

Instead of whimpering in this matter and protesting that everybody believes the Minneapolis census is straight and honest, the Journal should welcome an investigation and invite the legislature to inquire into the correctness of its enumeration. Of course this is presuming that the census really is correct and not padded outrageously, as the St. Paul papers claim. But if the census figures are largely fraudulent, the Journal's attitude is more easily explained.

NECESSARY IMPROVEMENTS.
The Lake Carriers' association has begun an agitation for the enlargement of the channels between Lakes Huron and Erie. It is a timely movement, and should receive the support of every congressman along the chain of lakes, if the desired improvements cannot be made by the engineers without a further appropriation. The deepening of the waterway between Duluth and Buffalo has been attended by a steady increase in the size of the freight boats, and the probability is that still larger boats will be plying between the upper and lower lake ports in the near future. The channels connecting the lakes now require attention, because they have become inadequate for handling the great amount of tonnage that now passes through them.

As the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin points out, the canal across St. Clair flats was ample for the requirements of the vessels of the time in which it was constructed, but it is now too small to accommodate the growing commerce of the lakes. An accident in the canal is liable to blockade lake traffic for days and cause large financial loss. The lake carriers want the government to build another canal, so that the vessels upward bound can use one and the vessels downward bound the other. In the case of accident, with two canals the up and down traffic could be accommodated temporarily in one of the canals.

The channel at the Lime Kiln crossing is another critical point between Lakes Huron and Erie, says the Wisconsin. It has been aptly termed the Hell Gate of the lakes, and it certainly has been the doorway to trouble for many a struggling mariner and vessel owner. The rock bottom has been blasted out by the government engineers until there is room enough for vessels of the largest size if the captains are careful in navigating the channel. But sometimes the treacherous current causes large craft to disobey their helms and touch sharp projecting rocks. To touch with an iron bottom is to receive serious injury, because the rocks cut through iron as though it were mere tin. Wooden bottoms suffer less injury, but contact is always followed by docking and a ship carpenter's bill. The Lake Carriers' association wants the government to widen and deepen the channel through the ribs of the rock which crosses the river, so that the coming vessel drawing approximately twenty feet may go through with safety. These requests by the Lake Carriers' association should be promptly granted. It is the duty of the government to remove every obstacle to the safe transit of the many large freighters and passenger boats that traverse the great lakes.

SENATOR DAVIS' CANDIDACY.
When ex-Senator Sabin was in the East recently, he interested himself in the political feeling, more particularly as to Senator Davis' candidacy for president. "Let no Minnesota politician," Mr. Sabin, "think that the intelligent men of the East, whether they are engaged in business or whether they are of the class we call politicians, are not familiar with the splendid qualities of heart and mind which have endeared Senator Davis to the people of the state, so intelligently. I covered very considerable territory while in the East, and made so many inquiries and heard so many expressions of opinion from representative men, not only in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Brooklyn, but in many smaller places, that I feel justified in this speaking of the situation. While I do not claim him as the leading presidential candidacy today, I believe that, with the other candidates seriously handicapped, he is the man of the hour. Senator Davis' chances are second to none. Indeed, all the conditions and circumstances considered, and I believe the Minnesota man stands better than any of them. If Reed cannot be nominated, then the duty of the New England delegates will support Senator Davis."

This will be pleasing news to the many Duluth friends of Senator Davis. There is no doubt that he can count upon hearty support by the people here, and it is likely that a single objection will be raised in the state convention to sending a delegation to the national convention that will give him united and enthusiastic support.

THE SATURDAY HERALD.
It seems hardly necessary to direct special attention to the very complete newspaper which The Herald presents to its thousands of readers each Saturday, because it is generally acknowledged that no other newspaper at the head of the lakes equals it either in the quantity or the quality of its contents. The Saturday Herald has no competitor in Duluth and telegraphic, there will be found many special articles of an attractive character.

A young lady from Duluth, who has been making a tour of Europe, contributes to The Herald an interesting account of her experiences in Paris. It does not travel the beaten path of description, but gives information on many matters of which many travelers take little notice. Written in a bright, interesting style, this article will have many readers.

The society columns will contain all that is new in regard to the doings of Duluth society, approaching weddings, recently announced engagements, etc. The Herald always leads in society news.

Likewise the dramatic department will prove interesting to all theatergoers. The Grand Army column, which is in charge of a committee of the old veterans, has many readers, because the old vets do not mind their words when they indulge in criticism. The sporting columns will be complete in every particular, because The Herald always has the latest news in sporting circles at the head of the lakes.

"Across the Tea Table" is a department that has become quite popular with The Herald readers, and the column tomorrow will be particularly interesting. Last, but not least, in addition to numerous special articles of a local character, there will be a complete report of the great convention of the Christian Endeavorers now being held here. No other paper will give such a complete report, and no other paper has the facilities for presenting it.

THE CALL ISSUED.
Governor Clough has issued an invitation to the governors of eleven Northwestern states to send representatives, or be present in person, at a meeting to be held in Minneapolis, on Nov. 20, to consider the matter of a mid-continent exposition in the Twin Cities, in 1897 or 1898. The interested states are Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon, Wyoming and Washington, which, with Minnesota, bring the number up to twelve. In addition to the governors, the mayors of all leading cities in these states will be invited to be present. This will be the governor's part of the work. The commercial bodies of Minneapolis and St. Paul will send out invitations to the commercial bodies of these states, and so the whole industrial field will be covered. The meeting will be held in the rooms of the Commercial club, in Minneapolis, and will be called to order by Governor Clough or President John F. Calderwood.

Thus the first official step has been taken towards the holding of a great exposition of the natural resources and products of the Northwest. There should be a general response to the governor's call. The mayor of every city should appoint delegates and the commercial bodies should also send representatives, so that the board which will have control of the preparations for the exposition will be thoroughly representative of all sections of the Northwest.

THE RETURN OF PROSPERITY.
The politicians not many years ago were accustomed to say: "As Maine goes, so goes the Union." This is no true from a political standpoint now, because Maine has stood solidly Republican, while the country as a whole has gone Democratic. But it is pretty certain that in business matters an improvement in Maine means a return to prosperity in the entire land. Hence the interest that attaches to the annual report of the secretary of the board of trade of the state of Maine, which is a document that should receive a widespread circulation.

The report makes reference to the unprecedented growth and prosperity which the state has experienced within the past year, commenting upon benefits derived from railroad development, adding material wealth and length and breadth of the Pine Tree state. The report goes on to say that one of the most interesting and even marvelous examples is the success of the new Bangor & Aroostook railroad, which is a document that should receive a widespread circulation.

paid for a general distribution of that remedy among the people. The plan is to obtain the serum at first cost from the farm in New York and place it on sale at drug stores where it will be accessible to the populace. The commissioner of the health department, has statistics which show that the use of anti-toxine in Chicago has decreased the mortality from diphtheria in that city 40 per cent.

"Shirley" is a pen name very well known in London. It belongs there to John Skelton, who is going to publish the letters he has in his time received from famous men, instead of giving them to the editors, of complete lives and letters of Browning, Thackeray, Proudhon, Disraeli, Rossetti and Huxley, certainly an interesting lot to be associated together. The book is called "Table Talk of Shirley."

The Anoka Union denies that it opposed Senator Davis for re-election or supported Senator Washburn, and adds: "This paper is exceedingly friendly to Senator Davis' presidential candidacy." The Herald is glad to learn this, but it would respectfully suggest that the recent tone of the Union would lead anyone to believe it was on the other side.

Another shorthand writing machine has been invented, but it is doubtful if it becomes any more widely used than the two that preceded it, which have had but a modest success. After all, there is nothing like the facile pencil and ready book for taking notes.

When Annie Rives, the author of "The Quick and the Dead," was married, she had thirty-one pet dogs and had taught a Scotch terrier to sing. And yet some people express surprise that her husband has secured a divorce!

Ex-Governor Foraker, of Ohio, who is a candidate for United States senator, has challenged Senator Brice to a joint debate, probably with the hope that he may thus get Brice into Ohio for a short time at least.

The Herald contained all the news yesterday, and consequently there was nothing in the morning paper today that had not been previously published. What is the use of morning papers, anyhow?

Dr. Parkhurst declares that "Christian fidelity means patriotism just as much as it does piety; means being a good citizen just as much as it does being a good church member."

Professor Woolman is an investigator. He is not content with external appearance but wants to get at the inside or bottom of things. The other day he thought he could go down to the telephone central office and master the whole "shooting match" in a few minutes. Manager Lomasney and Electric Philps took him into the operating room and commenced their dual lecture. He did not get out until he was a metallic circuit and Phelps countered with a discourse on physics, spanning their rivers, 60,000 happy souls and four flourishing towns of more than 4000 inhabitants each. The coast, bays, rivers and lakes of Maine, with the finest fleet of ocean steamers to be seen in any part of the world, are additional evidence of growing prosperity in every direction, and in almost every branch and line of business.

There is no reason for the existence of "boom times," particularly in the state of Maine, except for the reason that the improvement in the time and in condition of business is universal. Hence the report above quoted will be read with satisfaction all over the country. The good times have come everywhere.

There is many a ship between the American helms and the estate abroad. A Providence man died in Guatemala in August. The American consul general, in reporting to the state department, informed it that the deceased had on his person $200, and that there was $800 to his credit at the International bank. Here the mischievous elphers got in their work, and it was printed in many papers that the deceased had $200 with him when he died and $800,000 in the bank. His heirs at Providence, even unto the third and fourth generation, organized, retained counsel, and were dividing up the property in advance very happily when the correct version of the consul general's report put an end to their pleasures of anticipation.

Is not a slight degree of pride excusable?

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS.
The brief history of the Christian Endeavor movement furnishes a striking illustration of the power of organization and the possibilities of Christian life when left free to organize itself. The youth of the church is here enlisted for aggressive service, and in the common union of the 35,000 local societies scattered throughout the country is the source of their great strength. The society is interdenominational. It is a foe to sectarianism, but a friend of warm-hearted denominationalism, as the denominational rallies at the convention which met in Duluth this morning and will continue until Sunday evening, there will be found a religious enthusiasm that was never witnessed in the history of the Christian church until the Endeavor society made its appearance, and under the inspiration of Rev. Francis E. Clarke, united together all the independent local organizations and made them feel the power of a common life. Wherever the conventions of the Christian Endeavor society are held, the results are beneficial to the city in which they meet. No one can attend their meetings, no one can come in contact with this enthusiastic band of Christian workers, without being inspired to lead a better life.

In the North American Review of September, Dr. F. E. Clarke had an article in defense of the Christian Endeavor movement, although why it should require any defense is not very clear. In this article, Dr. Clarke tells the history of the society. It has often been remarked, he says, that a history of the Society of Christian Endeavor is a story of great religious conventions. The first great convention, so far as numbers were concerned, was the one held in Chicago in 1888. Five thousand, it is thought, attended this meeting, and though not a tenth part of the numbers found at present conventions, that was then considered a most surprising gathering, and was declared by more than one religious writer to be the largest religious gathering ever held in the history of the Christian church. Philadelphia welcomed 7

THE DULUTH BANKING COMPANY,

400 Burrows Block.

State Bank Not Affected by Cashier Stuckey's Flight and Defalcation.

Slight Run This Morning But all Depositors Received Their Money.

Reward Was Increased Today to $1000—The Woman Is Here.

Despite all rumors to the contrary, the police persist in believing that Charles H. Stuckey left the city Wednesday night on the Omaha night train, and the detectives are now working on a clue which promises to materialize. Thomas Brown, a grain commission merchant, with offices in the Chamber of Commerce, firmly believes that he met Stuckey on Superior street near the Palladium building about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, but Chief Armstrong is confident it is a case of mistaken identity.

"Tommy" Walsh, the well-known raconteur, made the subtle morning paper a victim of one of his jokes last night. He announced to his friends that he had driven Stuckey due to Lakeside on Wednesday evening, and the morning sheet gravely announced that "Stuckey" might have had a hand in taking him away, or might have taken to the woods."

THE REWARD INCREASED. At a meeting of the directors of the State bank of Duluth this morning it was decided to increase from $500 to $1000 the reward offered for the capture of C. H. Stuckey, the cashier, who absconded Wednesday night with $100,000 of the bank's available funds. Chief Armstrong is authorized to advertise the reward and will send circulars broadcast over the country.

When the bank opened its doors this morning there were a few anxious depositors on the sidewalk eagerly awaiting a chance to check out their deposits. They were promptly paid. The bank was over in a few minutes and it soon became apparent that there would be no run on the bank. The larger depositors appeared satisfied of the safety of the institution, and the city, county and state funds did not withdraw. Several men made deposits.

NO SERIOUS EFFECT. President M. O. Hall said this morning: "The defalcation will have no serious effect on the bank. Our depositors appear satisfied and there is no danger of a run. The bank is perfectly solvent. D. Davidson, president of the First National bank of Little Falls, who is one of the heaviest stockholders, will be here this afternoon. H. Thorson, the St. Paul capitalist, holds $25,000 in stock, and will also arrive today. There was no shortage previous to Stuckey's departure, and the $100,000 which he carried with him is all that is missing. The $100,000 reward we have offered is bound to result in a capture."

Mr. Peterson, of Dahl & Peterson company, said to a Herald representative: "Our firm carries a balance of $10,000 in the bank, and we made deposits this morning and shall continue to do so."

"I am satisfied that the bank is all right," said County Treasurer L. H. Whipple this morning. "I shall not withdraw the county funds, and I think anyone who gets frightened and pulls out of the State bank is foolish."

THE BANK EXAMINER. Assistant State Bank Examiner Oscar Longren, of St. Paul, has been in the city for two days on official business. This morning he was telephoned by the bank officials to come down for consultation. He appeared perfectly satisfied with the situation.

"Officially I can say nothing," said Mr. Longren. "I am not here officially. As a private individual, however, I believe the bank is perfectly solvent. Of course there is no bank in the country which could pay off its depositors in one day. If the people are only sensible they will be all right. I am assured that the $200,000 state deposit will not be withdrawn."

A rumor was circulated this afternoon that Stuckey was arrested this morning at Turtle Lake, Wis., but the police know nothing of the reported capture.

Stuckey was also treasurer of the Duluth council, Royal Arcanum, and had $200 of the funds of the society. The society, however, holds a bond from a New York indemnity company which will cover this.

LUCILLE IS HERE. That Lucille Wells, the fair-haired inamorata of the missing cashier, did not go to Stuckey in his flight, was proven beyond doubt by the appearance of that lady at one of her apartments, room 4, Osborn flats at Nineteenth avenue west and Superior street, in answer to the knock of a Herald representative this morning. She stoutly denied all knowledge of the missing man and slammed the door in the reporter's face with vigor and dispatch.

Some time ago Miss Wells left the Point and made her appearance up town with a roll furnished by an admiring railroad, and furnished three rooms in the center of the city in a sumptuous manner. Dislodged by the police, she went to Superior for a couple of months, returning to establish herself at the West End. Stuckey was only an occasional visitor. Another charmer on the Point ensnared his affections and caused a quarrel between the cashier and Lucille, which led to her returning a number of diamonds presented by Stuckey. Lucille's financial adviser paid all expenses and the girl denies ever having taken a cent. The Point girl is still in the city and has been interviewed by the police. It has lately developed that Stuckey was a poker fiend and has lost heavily of late.

GREAT REFRIGERATOR.

A. Booth Company Will Erect One at Selkirk, Manitoba.

General Manager C. W. Turner, of the A. Booth Company, was in the city yesterday on one of his periodical business trips in the interest of the great firm which he represents. In addition to some other matters which more immediately concern Duluth, but which cannot be made public for a few weeks yet, he gave The Herald representative particulars regarding a new project of the A. Booth Company which will interest Duluth builders.

The company will build at Selkirk, Manitoba, the largest ammonia refrigerators or freezing plants in this continent, with a 6,000,000-pound capacity. The building will be of wood with stone foundations, and will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000. Some idea of the immensity of the proposed plant may be gleaned from the statement that it will be just fifteen times as large as the refrigerating plant which the firm has lately installed in this city.

The Canadian Pacific railway will provide all the necessary side and spur tracks to accommodate the business of the plant, and a line of Booth's refrigerators is something that will follow before long. Part of the product of this new plant will pass through Duluth, part will go to St. Paul, but the bulk will seek the Eastern branch establishments of the firm.

Work on the new plant will commence immediately on the arrival of A. Booth, Sr., who will return from his European trip in a few days. His approval of the amended plans is the only remaining step.

The establishing of this plant is to give the Booth people the facilities for handling the fish and game business of the entire central Northwest section, including the territory as far west as the Rocky mountains, at which point of division their Pacific coast branches can cover the field.

COULD HAVE SECURED IT.

Rev. Kosmeri returned last night from Winona, where he went as a delegate of St. Joseph's Benevolent society to the German Catholic convention. He could have secured next year's convention for Duluth, but preferred to wait until the year following. The next convention will be held at St. Cloud.

It is worth reading, for it tells about the Pincola Balsam, a certain relief for cough, tickling in the throat and the stopped-up feeling in the upper part of the chest. A simple cough may turn into something serious if let alone. It ceases to vex you and to keep you awake at night when you have allayed the inflammation in your throat with Ely's Pincola Balsam. ## ANSWER

Venezuela's Reply to the British Government is Foreshadowed.

South American Country Has Already Denied All That England Claims.

But Desires a Fair and Just Settlement of All the Questions.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The answer of Venezuela to the British ultimatum appears to be clearly foreshadowed in an official statement from the Venezuelan minister of foreign affairs. This has been received at Washington. It states with positiveness the attitude and policy of Venezuela upon the exact subjects covered in the ultimatum and in Minister Chamberlain's letter to the governor of British Guiana.

These official statements disclose the present ultimatum in a repetition of demand made by Great Britain in November last. As Great Britain had no minister in Venezuela, relations being broken off, the German minister consented to act in presenting the British from giving the assurances demanded by that British cabinet, served only to make a repetition of all that the republic of Venezuela had said against the claims of Great Britain, although stating at the same time, the desire of the government to avoid new difficulties through a just and fair settlement of the question.

VENEZUELA MATTERS.

Report That England's Ultimatum Has Been Sent.

London, Oct. 18.—The St. James Gazette this afternoon follows up its disclosures of yesterday regarding the policy of the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, regarding Venezuela, and the apparent determination of the British government to uphold claims by force of arms by making the following statement: "We are in a position to state that the marquis of Salisbury has sent an ultimatum to President Crespo, which not only sets out the demands of the British government for reparation on account of the arrest of the deputation and inspectors of police at Guayana, but it also states the terms upon which Great Britain will definitely determine the boundary line dispute with that country. The ultimatum is now en route to President Crespo if it is not already delivered to him."

"This final action was decided upon by the marquis of Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain before the former's recent holiday in France. Both the marquis of Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain are in perfect agreement as to the necessity of ending the frontier dispute, even if Venezuela has to be brought to terms by methods which are the most effective in reaching an understanding with South American republics. The instructions to station Maxims on the frontier are to be as associated in the dispatch only in the sense that any action will be necessary in view of those Venezuelan who are not likely to pay any attention to President Crespo and the government of Caracas what ever agreement the latter may make with Great Britain after a study of the marquis of Salisbury's message."

The St. James Gazette also publishes a letter, signed Hugh Watt, deploring the retrograde condition of British Guiana. It is claimed to the attempts to bolster up the declining sugar cane industry, but predicting that Mr. Chamberlain's policy will revive its industrial prospects.

The proceedings were opened by Mrs. Mary J. Weaver, national evangelist from New York, who led the devotional exercises which precede every session. Mrs. C. M. Woodward, superintendent of the railway department, said she had been spending more of her time during the past year in searching for good women to aid her in her work among men. She paid a glowing tribute to the St. Paul, Oct. 18.—Governor Clough this morning appointed ex-Senator W. B. Dean, of St. Paul, and J. E. Johnson, of Minneapolis, as members of the state board of arbitration. Mr. Dean represents the employers and Mr. Johnson the employees on the board, and under the law these two members are allowed to select a third member. If they can agree upon any one within ten days after their own appointment, and recommend his appointment by the governor as the third member, if they do not make a recommendation within ten days the governor is authorized to appoint the third member without recommendation.

Stuckey, the Bank Cashier, is Still Very Much at Large.

He is Believed to Have Gone East on the Soo Line.

Conference of Bank Directors and the State Treasurer Tonight.

Charles H. Stuckey, the defaulting cashier of the State bank, is still at large, but his capture is liable to be made at any moment. Stuckey was in W. A. Foote's cigar store at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening and bought a cigar. From there he went to the Ideal beer hall where he was seen between 9:30 and 10 o'clock. Then he went to his rooms and secured his grip preparatory to boarding the 11 o'clock train on the Omaha road by which route he left the city as stated in The Herald last night.

At White Birch, Wis., Conductor H. H. Moore discovered the man standing on the head end of the train. Stuckey said he got on at Superior, a statement which the police have since disproved. He is known to have gotten on at Duluth and avoided detection by jumping off whenever the train stopped at a way station. At White Birch on being discovered Stuckey paid his fare in gold to Spooner where he again paid to Shell Lake, when he climbed off and got on again when the train started.

This performance was repeated at the next small station and here the conductor grew tired of collecting the fares and informed Stuckey he must buy a ticket. The matter was compromised by Stuckey paying his fare to Turtle Lake where he left the train. At that point the Soo line crosses the Omaha and is thought Stuckey took an eastbound Soo train. Here the trail ends but detectives are working on a clew which Moore is positive that his peculiar passenger answers to Stuckey's description in every particular.

THE FATHER ARRIVES.
S. H. Stuckey, father of the missing man, will arrive in the city this afternoon from Ann Arbor, Mich., for a conference with the bank officials. His first intimation of his son's wrongdoing was obtained through the press reports. He feels keenly the blow dealt by his wayward son.

Stockholders H. Thorson, of St. Paul, and A. H. Davidson, of Little Falls, are in the city and spent the morning at the bank. State Treasurer A. T. Koerner will arrive in the city from St. Paul tonight to confer with stockholders Harold Thorson, of St. Paul, and A. H. Davidson, of Little Falls, Wis., and the directors of the bank, relative to the course to be pursued by the state. The directors of the bank will also decide upon the future course of the bank at tonight's meeting. The bank did not clear today, but the officers claim this was done by the advice of attorneys.

THE EPISCOPALIANS.
English Church May Occupy New See of Kioto.

Minneapolis, Oct. 18.—Rev. William R. Huntington, of New York, for the committee on amendments to the constitution, reported in the house of deputies of the Episcopal convention this morning an amendment providing for a court of appeals. The committee thought it unwise to take up the matter so late in the session, and it was finally decided to refer it to the special committee which has charge of the constitutional revision pending the next convention.

The house then plunged into the consideration of another batch of proposed amendments to the canons proposed by Rev. Dr. F. P. Davenport. The first taken up related to the rights and privileges of rectors, wardens and vestry, and the powers of bishops in conferring the choice of rectors. The amendment was eventually referred to the joint committee on canons. The proposition to use only the term "Jesus" and not "Jesus" in the prayer-book and hymnal was laid on the table.

The committee on new dioceses reported in favor of non-concurring with the bishops in the matter of setting aside the new jurisdiction of Kioto. A minority report declared that the English church was ready to occupy the field. In the debate no reference was made to the opposition's real reason.

Rev. J. M. Francis, selected by the house of bishops for the new bishopric, is a member of the English monastic order of the Cistercians, who take a vow of chastity, poverty and obedience. There is a rooted objection to selecting any bishop who owes allegiance to a father superior in England.

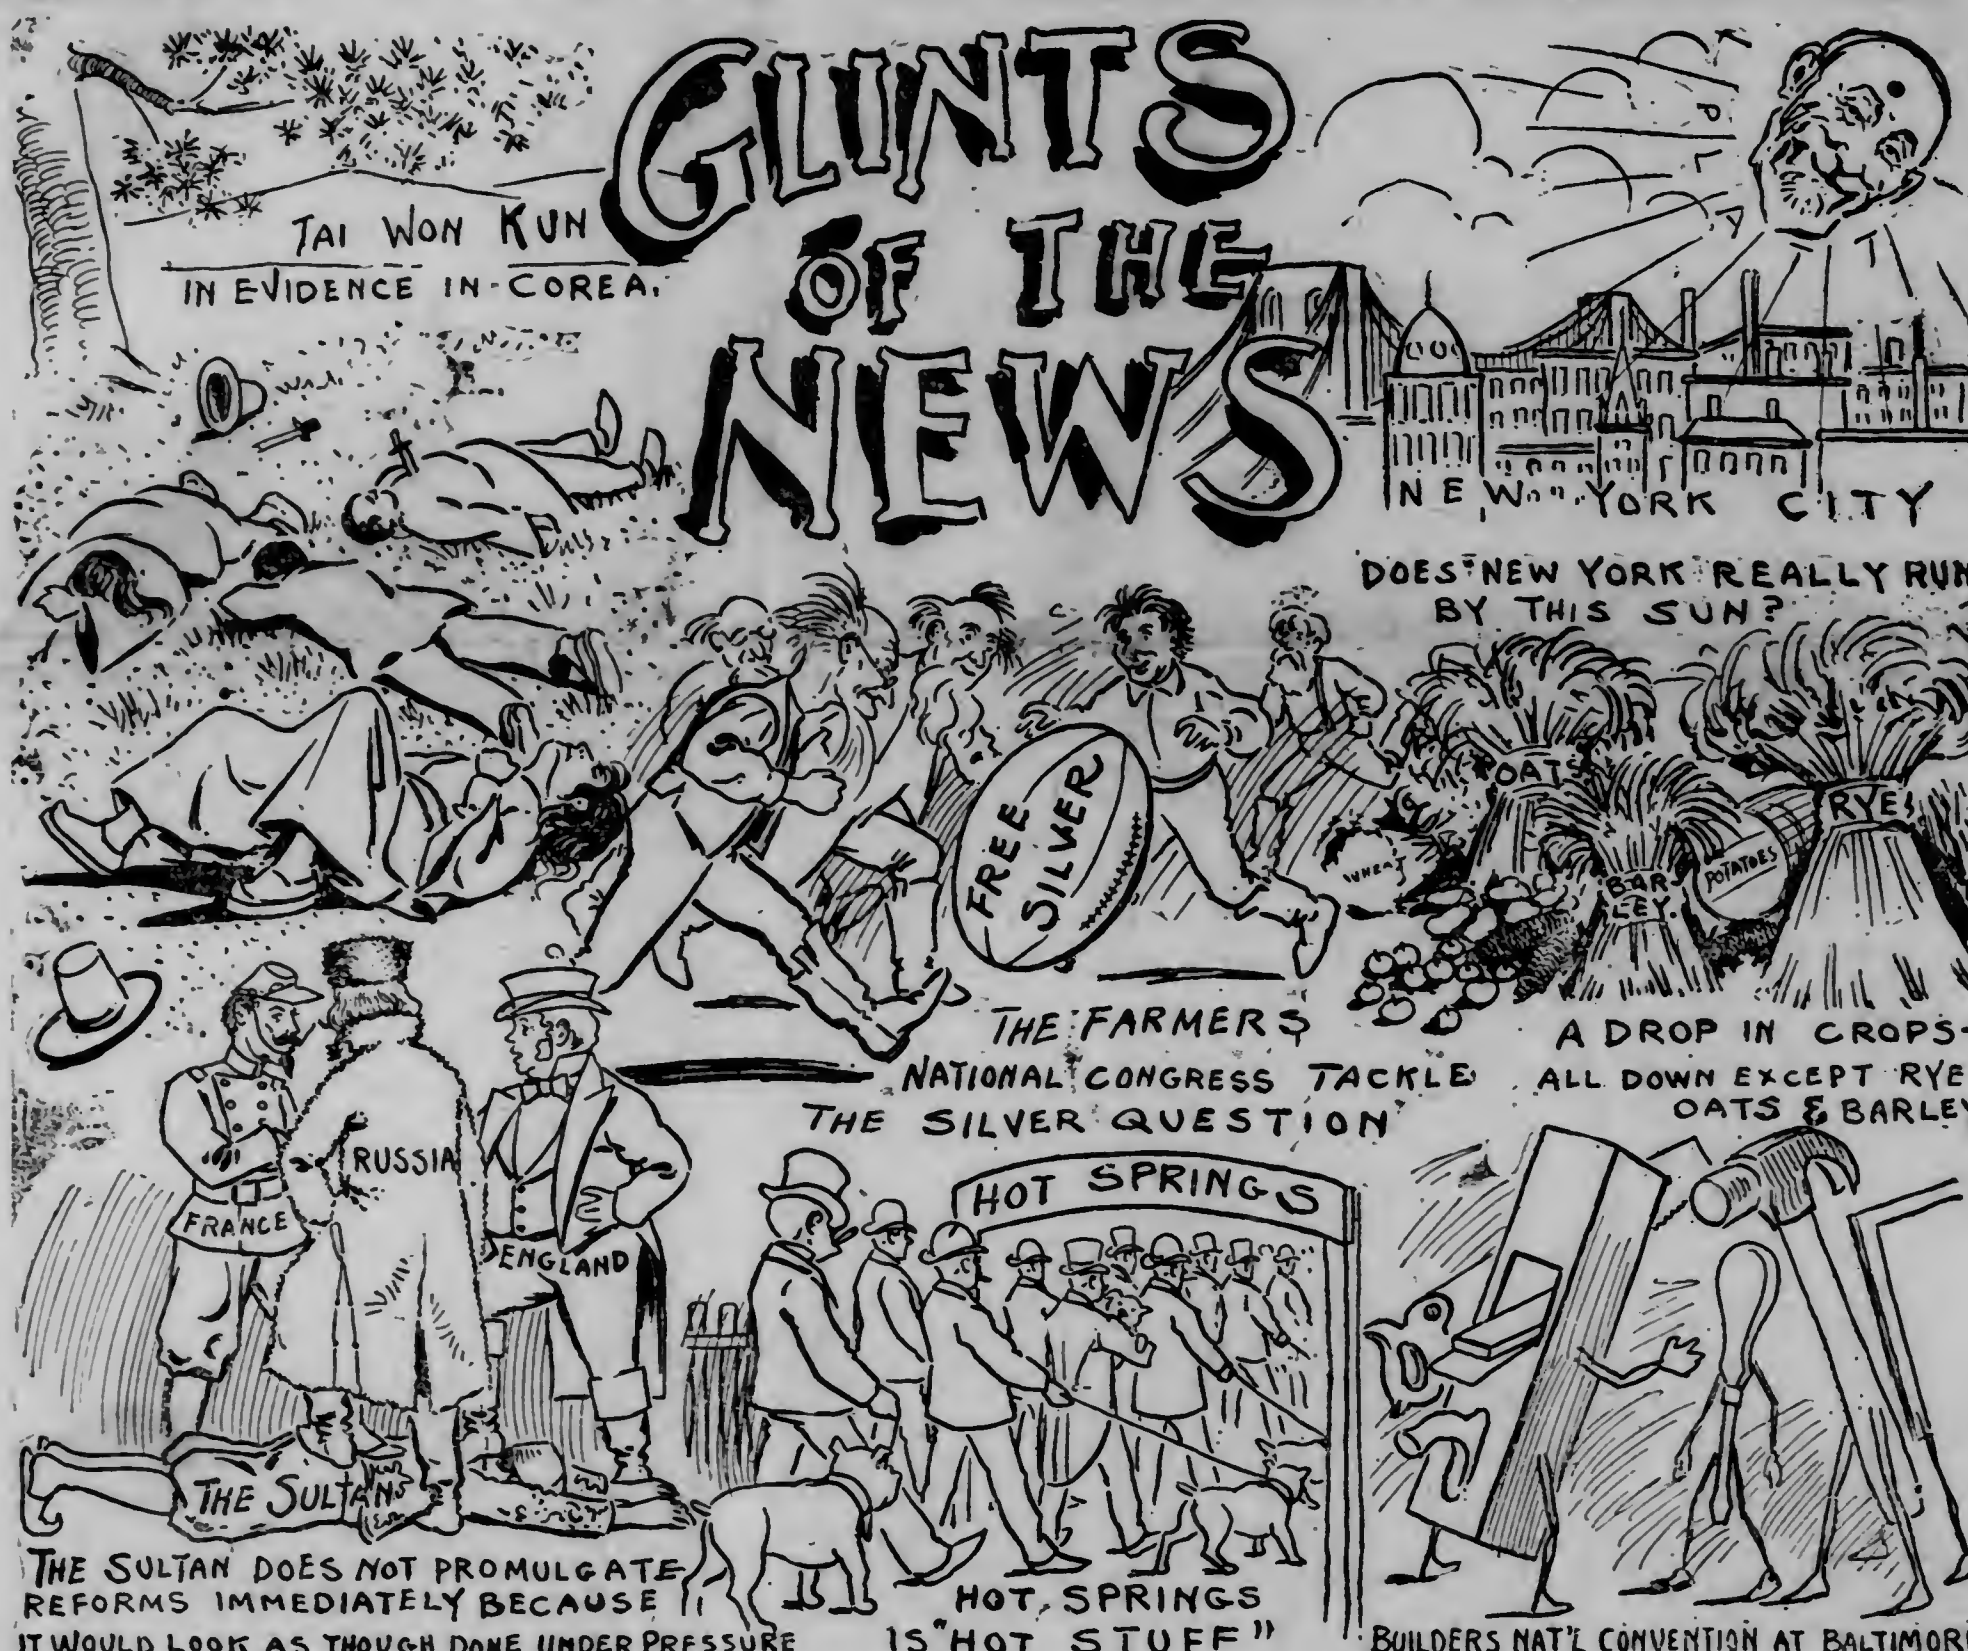

In view of the pecuniary and other difficulties, the house of bishops refused to concur in the proposal to insert the patriotic hymn, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," in the hymnal.

Bucyrus, Ohio, Oct. 18.—The Columbus, Sandusky & Hocking railroad was sold today to D. G. Hays and G. W. Sinks, representing bondholders for $1,500,000, the sale of a month ago, for $2,000,000. Upon an alleged responsible bid having been set aside.

demand. Venezuela promptly rejected the demand and refused to give the assurances Great Britain asked. The refusal was accompanied by a restatement of all Venezuela claimed. The circumstances of the demand and refusal are given as follows, in the official statement of the Venezuelan foreign office, received here.

"In September last the government knew that the high authorities of Demarara, British Guiana, were ready to make protests and raised questions, because some Venezuelan soldiers had crossed the River Cuyani, near the place where the so-called English station is, and had felled timber on the right bank of the river. Information has been received here that this movement began by some threats of the colonial agents to a certain Venezuelan citizen who had resided at that point for a long time."

"It was also known that the band of Venezuelan soldiers had crossed the river for the purpose of celebrating the national festivities of July 5, in the house of some friends of theirs residing in that territory. The British colonial agents, who have exercised their authority since the day in which the government Demarara wrongfully decided to occupy that part of Venezuelan territory, were allowed to continue in their place without being molested by the forces of Venezuela."

Such was the state of affairs when in the early part of last November, the German legation, who was in charge of the protection of British interests in Venezuela, received a telegram from Berlin, in which the name of the British cabinet, mention was made of a supposed violation of the colonial frontier and assurances were urgently demanded that in the future no Venezuelan soldier should be allowed to cross the stream on that side and go to the right bank of the Cuyani river."

A declaration of this kind by Venezuela would have been equivalent to an implied purpose of withdrawal of the rights of Great Britain to the possession of that territory, and would have also implied the withdrawal of the alleged rights of the British government to the possession of that territory. Under these circumstances no hesitation was possible and the answer given by the department for foreign relations, far

WANTED A BRIBE.
A Political Minister Who Was Dishonest.

Greenville, Oct. 18.—Representative U. W. Hoefler, a prominent minister, today acknowledged writing a letter soliciting a bribe of $1500 for his vote for senator. Mr. Hoefler has been prominently connected in the ministry of the Christian church for twenty-five years and was a leading member of the last legislature.

On seeing the facsimile copy of his letter to the Democratic committee in the papers today he confessed and immediately sent the Republican county committee a letter of withdrawal.

JEALOUSY'S WORK.

Frightful Deed of an Iowa Negro.

St. Paul, Oct. 18.—A Webster City, Iowa, special to the Dispatch says: Reed Smith, colored, aged 35 years, living at Lehigh, became insane from jealousy last night and with a club beat his wife into a jelly. The sheriff was called to arrest the man, who was taken to the jail. Reed secured a gun and opened fire on him. Sheriff Wolsey was struck on the head by the shot, the bullet taking off his ear. The bullet passed on striking a woman named Harbeck, who will die from her injuries. Reed escaped and has not yet been captured. He has been traced as far as Jewett Junction today. Smith's wife is dead.

ANACONDA STOCK DEAL.
New York, Oct. 18.—The deal for 300,000 shares of the Anaconda copper mine has been definitely concluded. Hamilton Smith, of the Exploration company, of London, has returned from the works. The Exploration company will name two directors in the board.

various state organizations under her. At the conclusion of Mrs. Woodward's report, Miss Willard said she was sure the hearts of all those present had been touched by the statements contained in it. "A woman," she said, "who can go out and find other women whose hearts are earnestly in this work is just the woman whom they want at the head of this department. Thirty thousand railroad men are killed or maimed every year. About three go under the wheels every hour. I can't help lifting up a prayer to the Divine God for the engineers, conductors and brakemen every time I enter a train."

Mrs. M. C. English, of Illinois, superintendent of the department of mines, followed with a report, in which she told of the W. C. T. U. work among the miners. Incidentally she spoke of a Pennsylvania coal operator who said recently that nothing save the power of Christ could work any chance for good in a community such as that of miners. It is understood that she referred to J. C. Martin, who controls 5000 acres of coal lands at Martindale, and whose wife is one of the most prominent of the W. C. T. U. workers.

Mrs. K. L. Stevenson, in her report on the department of literature, dwelt upon the great influence for good or evil of reading matter, and pleaded for a more generous distribution of free books and pamphlets of the right kind.

Mrs. L. Reed, superintendent of the press department, in beginning her report, made the assertion that at 10 cents a line the W. C. T. U. would owe the newspapers of the country over $300,000 if it had been charged for favors rendered.

Perfect in every leaving requisite, Dr. Price's baking powder.

ATROCIOUS DOUBLE MURDER.
Milwaukee, Oct. 18.—A special to the Wisconsin from Hancock, Mich., says: The bodies of Chris Kramer and wife, aged people, were found in the cellar of their house at West Hancock this morning with their throats cut from ear to ear. It is quite certain the double murder was committed for the purpose of robbery, as the old couple were commonly believed to have kept large sums of money secreted about the house. The police so far have no clues to the murderer.

to the authorities by the police of the United States, and it tallies with the man Russell now in custody.

The prisoners refuse to say anything and will not allow their pictures to be taken. The police authorities of this city are confident that one of the prisoners is the man Russell, who is wanted by the United States, as his appearance tallies exactly with the description of him sent out by the American police.

FIGHT LITIGATION.

Strong Array of Legal Talent at Today's Trial.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 18.—E. B. Kinsworthy, attorney general of Arkansas, is in the city, and will lend a hand to prosecuting Attorney Toague at Corbett's trial this afternoon. He was closed nearly all morning with Judge Duffie and Judge Trague. Col. George W. Murphy, the celebrated criminal lawyer, arrived last night and will be associated with Hon. W. H. Martin and C. H. Greaves, as counsel for the defense. With the present array of legal talent on either side a formidable legal battle is promised that may yet serve as the skirmish to a subsequent battle in which there is promised the crash of arms as an accompaniment to the "duel" of four-ounce gloves.

Smiling and agreeable, the attorney general closed up his face like an oyster when asked anything relating to the proposed glove contest between Corbett and Fitzsimmons. He said he would be at the trial and will have a stenographic record made of the testimony. Corbett arrived at 12:25 p. m. from Little Rock, where he stayed last night, in the charge of Deputy Sheriff Babcock. Chancery court will reconvene at 1:30 p. m., when the trial will be resumed.

There is no abatement in public interest in the contest, and it is possible it intensifies daily. The date for holding the contest will doubtless be postponed, but no definite date has been given out as yet. A telegram was sent to Fitzsimmons that if he is not in this place Monday the contest will be declared off. Martin Julian, Fitzsimmons' manager, will arrive here on the evening train.

Wild Excitement at New York Market Opening
Today.

Bears Have the Upper Hand and an Eighty-Point Loss Resulted.

At New Orleans the Recorded
Loss Was About Fifty Points.

New York, Oct. 19.—The cotton market opened here demoralized in condition. Unlimited selling orders were at hand and the first sales were made at prices five to six points apart, and 15 to 17 below last night's closing. Before the end of the session, quotations were 39 points below yesterday's highest and 24 to 25 below last night's figures. The transactions for the day foot up the unusual total of 557,000 bales.

The direct cause of the break was the drop at Liverpool caused by the reports that the New Orleans corner had collapsed. Selling orders were very heavy in the English market and cable dispatches stated that the New Orleans brokers were large sellers there. At New Orleans a drop of 30 points was reported, and at the close the total loss was 60 points from last night's closing and 80 below yesterday's highest.

For the time all other influences were thrown aside in the New York market and at the close the bears had the upper hand and were still hammering prices downward. Large receipts and a poor spot demand were reported, but little or no attention was paid to these features.

EXCITEMENT AT NEW ORLEANS.
New Orleans, Oct. 19.—The spot cotton market here today is steady. Futures were weak at the opening and the wildest excitement prevailed until noon, the

GATESBY JONES' DEATH.

Breathed His Last in Richmond
on Tuesday.

The Richmond, Va., Times of Wednesday says: "Gatesby Jones died at 5:15 o'clock last night at the residence of his father-in-law, ex-Congressman William L. White, 113 East Franklin street, after a long and painful illness of tuberculosis consumption. Gatesby Jones, who is a well known figure in this community for his many and sterling virtues, was born in the county Gloucester, Va., thirty-two years ago, of a family prominently identified with its earliest history, and to this day is a household word there, having been associated in years past with marked events that have made the name familiar to all people of Virginia. His father was Brooke Jones, a brother of Dr. Walter Jones, and a first cousin of Lieut. Jones, who figured so conspicuously and gallantly in the great naval engagement in 1861 at Hampton Roads between the Confederate gunboat Merrimack and the Federal Monitor, during which the war vessels Congress and Cumberland were sunk."

Mr. Jones' grandfather, whose name was also Gatesby Jones, was a close mate and close friend of Gen. R. E. Lee at West Point. This promising young man, having in early youth a friend who was killed at Chancellorsville, giving his own life to save that of a friend, married the only daughter of ex-Congressman William L. White, of Richmond, a most fashionable circle of the city, having been prominent in all the best and most fashionable circles of the city, having even some few years back, in his death he leaves a young widow with three children—a son, who is probably no more than a year old, and two daughters, aged 15 months, 3 and 5 years. More popular in this city, or had more friends than Gatesby Jones, and by his untimely death many more a true friend and genial, kind-hearted companion."

ST. CLEMENT CHURCH BAZAR.
Commencing Monday evening there will be inaugurated and continued during the week ending Saturday night a grand bazar and musical for the benefit of St. Clement's church, at 1723 West Superior street. That this will be the most successful bazar and musical entertainment ever held in the city goes without saying, elaborate preparations have been made for it. Everybody in the West End seems to have taken an active interest in its success. The contestants for the different articles are thoroughly alive and are making it pretty warm for each other. Ladies' gold watch, a $50 roll top desk, a $50 Singer sewing machine, $100 bicycle and a $50 overcoat are some of the many articles contested for. Dinner and supper will be served each day, also cream and other delicate refreshments will be served. All are invited.

Awarded Three Thousand.
In the United States court the jury in the case of John Staherg, administrator, vs. Oliver Mining company returned a verdict for $3000 for the plaintiff. The department of the court has no jurisdiction. The judgment was about to take it from the jury on the ground that contributory negligence had been shown and consented to the dismissal.

The case of John McCabe against the Omaha road was dismissed, being found that the court has no jurisdiction. The exceptions of the defendant to the findings of the referee will be taken on the case of Charles Mitchell against the Northern Pacific railroad were argued this morning.

Brown Was the Victim of a Nice Little Plot.

S. B. Brown, alias Green, alias Bean, who was wanted here on a charge of deserting his wife, arrived in the city this morning from Fargo, N. D., where he was captured. He was accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Hanson. Brown is a victim of misplaced confidence. At first he refused to return without extradition papers, which could not be secured, as the offense was merely a misdemeanor. Upon learning this fact Chief Armstrong decided to send on Mrs. Brown was introduced and the arrest followed. Brown says he left his wife because of her bad temper and had gone to Fargo to procure a divorce, which he had heard only required thirty days. He was to have married a Superior girl in six weeks.

THE BEST OF ALL IN ALL THINGS AT ALL TIMES.

There are many GOOD life insurance companies, but among them all there must be one BEST. THE BEST is THE EQUITABLE. If you wish to know why, send for: 1, the report of the Superintendent of Insurance for the State of New York on the examination of The Equitable; 2, for actual results of maturing policies; 3, for statement of death claims paid in 1894. Then you will know the three great reasons of The Equitable's supremacy: 1st, its financial stability; 2d, its great profits and advantages to living policy-holders; 3d, the promptness of its payments and liberality of its settlements.

SPORTING

Necessity for State League of Amateur Ball Clubs is Felt.

Duluth Team Closed the Season Well Up in the Front Rank.

Murphy and Norton Fight on Monday is Exciting Great Interest.

As the season progresses the mornings grow chillier and the evenings with them, and no matter how bright and sunny the day, the night makes an overcast necessary. This means that summer sports are at an end, and one by one they have all departed, laid away until another summer comes.

The baseball season ended last Sunday, when Duluth and Superior's picked nines played at the West End grounds. The light attendance showed that the season had not ended too soon, even away until another summer comes.

proceedings? Likely as not he will get an office of some kind in the association.

Wheeling still holds its own, but it is a trifle chilly these mornings and evenings to face a biting wind that feels as though it came right out of a refrigerator, and the breath of winter nips one's fingers and toes in an energetic manner. It is doubtful if wheeling as a pastime is as popular as it was during the summer. For most of the wheelmen one sees on the streets are out for business rather than pleasure, and wheels are more in use for taking their owner to his work and back than for an evening's jaunt to Lakeside, Pike Lake or West Superior.

Next season will be probably even more wheeled than this one started out to be, and that would seem difficult. One thing that is going to popularize the wheel still more, if it materializes, is the rumor that wheels will be cheaper next year than this, and this rumor seems to have its foundation in reason if not in fact.

The manufacturer is 'making too much money on his wheels. To be sure, he divides liberally with the jobber and the retailer, but that does the consumer little good. Machinists say there is nothing about the best of wheels to make them cost so much, and they should know. There is little likelihood that wheels will get down to their popular price as early as next year, but they will undoubtedly be cheaper. There are rumors of manufacturers who promise wheels as good as the best for fabulously low prices, and the standard manufacturers, if they know what is good, will have to chop their prices another 25 per cent.

There is only one bar as yet in the progress of the wheel, and that is the fact that society with a large S has not yet taken it up as a body. When that happens, there will be no end to the popularity of the wheel.

This weather not only reminds us of winter, but it reminds us of winter's sports. So far as is known at present, there are no arrangements for a skating rink, though there will undoubtedly be several, as the lake and bay are not to be depended upon.

Murphy and Norton are both in active training for their coming fight, which is to take place Monday. Both men are in excellent condition, though Murphy complains that his hands are not yet wholly healed from his fight with Gallagher, and the fight will undoubtedly be a good one.

Aside from the $400 which the backers, George Esh and Paddy Liston, have up on the fight, there are a number of side bets and there will be more as the fight is attracting more interest than any which has occurred here in a long while.

Leon Glicky, who played in the High School football team here last year, is now playing center rush in the Ocean-to-Wis, team, and the Ocean-to-Wis team says that if all the Duluth players are like him they must be "crackerjacks."

Next Saturday the football team from the Duluth Boat club will play at St. Paul, and the Ocean-to-Wis team from Duluth will accompany the boys down. Duluth was defeated at the game here, but not by a wide margin.

In case Duluth wins this game a third game will be necessary, and that will take place in Duluth at a time suitable to the St. Paul boys.

The St. Paul Dispatch has this to say of the two men who have been playing billiards at the St. Louis this week: St. Paul's young expert, Harrison, completed the third and last series with the pick of Minneapolis experts on Thursday evening by defeating James Logan, of the Guaranty Loan rooms, of the padded city, by the total score of 2400 to 1322 for Logan. The last series showed nothing like the strength or brilliancy of Harrison's two former contests with Capen and Palmer. Although Logan is regarded by many as the strongest of the three players, if this be a fact, he is only a "bobby" in game in one out of the eight played, that being the first, when he scored 200 to 1322 for Logan. The last series showed nothing like the strength or brilliancy of Harrison's two former contests with Capen and Palmer. Although Logan is regarded by many as the strongest of the three players, if this be a fact, he is only a "bobby" in game in one out of the eight played, that being the first, when he scored 200 to 1322 for Logan.

The two tables used were not at all alike, and the change from one to the other seemed to completely throw him off his stride. Harrison labored somewhat under the same difficulties, and consequently his game was not what it should be outside of two games, when he reached an average of more than 11 points. These series have clearly established the fact that our St. Paul man is the best billiard player in the Twin Cities. Next week he goes to Duluth to play six exhibition games at the St. Louis hotel rooms with W. F. Hatley. The latter is decidedly the strongest player in the Northwest in the profession. Hatley is considered the equal of any player in America, with the exception of Schneider and Ives. Following the Duluth games Hatley will come to St. Paul and play six games at the hotel with Harrison. These should be the best exhibitions ever given in St. Paul, and should be of great benefit to Harrison in perfecting his methods for the future, as Hatley has had twenty years' experience with all the great players of the country.

This afternoon at Glen Avon the Duluth High School football eleven is playing a team from the North Wisconsin academy at Ashland. The Duluth boys have been practicing daily, and the game was expected to be a good one.

The Murphy and Norton fight is off. The atmosphere about the city hall is understood to be too frigid for any more prize fights and the mayor has said as much in a way that seems to mean that he means it.

CORK TREES IN GEORGIA. Augusta Chronicle: About thirty-five years ago several young cork trees were sent to Sanderville by the government and set out to test their adaptability to the climate.

Three or four are yet living, but the largest one is in the front yard of the Jackson home, being two feet or more in diameter.

Last week it was stripped of its bark around the trunk under the direction of Col. Richard L. Warthen, who manifests great interest in trees of all varieties, and samples of the cork will be forwarded to Washington and to the Atlanta exposition.

The bark, or cork, is two and a half inches thick, and is good material.

Col. Warthen, who has studied the matter closely, considers that this is the first tree that cork has ever been taken from in the United States.

COUNCIL

Young Lads Organize a Junior Body and Hold a Session.

Remarks on Street Railway Extension, Insurance Compact, Etc.

At the last few council meetings there might have been seen seated way in the rear of the chamber a number of bright-eyed lads intently watching the city fathers and taking copious notes of the proceedings. The youthful auditors were members of the junior council, an organization recently established by the youth of the East End for the purpose of acquiring a rudimentary knowledge of parliamentary modes of procedure. The rules of the organization prohibit outsiders from being present at the deliberations, but by a combination of craft and persuasion a Herald representative succeeded in breaking into the executive session last Thursday night and remained an interested and unnoticed spectator.

The garish light of a half dozen candles shone on the thoughtful countenances of the junior council, all signs of prominence East End families. The meeting place was in a loft over a certain spacious East End barn. There were a number of important matters to come up, and all the junior aldermen from every ward were present, seated on soap boxes and old trunks stored in the loft for safe keeping, when the 12-year-old president rapped for order with a croquet mallet.

THIS SCHOOL JANITORS. A communication from the mayor copied from the official reports of the council proceedings was read. In it his honor announced the appointment of a number of school janitors to serve as special policemen. There was a moment of silence following the reading, and then the youthful alderman from the Sixth arose and moved that the communication be laid on the table. He was smoking a strong corn-cob to be in full keeping with his illustrious prototype. The motion met with a ready second. "Mr. Chairman," said the junior representative of the Eighth, "I do not think this action of the mayor is right. The appointment of these janitors strikes a blow at the liberty of every scholar in Duluth today. The janitors are autocrats, all of them, and it is an insult to our boyhood to permit these men to trample on us with the additional vigor peculiar to the wearers of the stars." (Applause.) The motion to table was carried unanimously.

SIXTH WARD ALDERMAN SPEAKS. Then the alderman from the Sixth laid aside his pipe and bobbed to the front with a motion that the resolution selecting Piedmont avenue as the route for the proposed West End street car extension be laid on the table. "I resigned my position on the health board to look after this matter," declared the representative of the Sixth, who had been chosen because of his fondness for horse play. "I have brought before this council eleven petitions, none of them less than a yard long. There is but one ward and one street in the city. The ward is the Sixth and the street is Piedmont avenue. The endorsement of the Commercial club should be a sufficient guarantee of the sentiment of the West End." The motion was lost by a vote of 14 to 2.

At this juncture the gentleman from the Third was seen to be struggling with an overwhelming desire to address the meeting, and without the permission of the chair he burst forth into the following harangue:

"Mr. President, I think this council should do something to head off this damnable insurance compact. By Jesus, priest, sirs, it's an outrage. (Cheers.) It is incontestably an outrage. It is a deprivation, sirs." Here the gentleman was called to order by the president with a gentle reminder that no motion was before the house.

Then the gentleman from the Seventh moved that the resolutions accepting the architect's plans for the proposed armory at West Duluth and in the center of the city be passed over the mayor's veto.

ALMOHIES ARE NEEDED. "The junior alderman from the Sixth strongly supported the passage of the resolution. 'We need almshouses,' he said, 'and we need 'em bad. Where can we look for officers for our army if not among the militia men of West Duluth and Fond du Lac. I fought through the late unpleasantness and I tell you, gentlemen, I should have been killed instead of serving my country as an alderman. If I had not previously learned to run."

The gentleman from the Third made a hard, hot talk against the resolution, and when the clerk called the roll voted for it. This delighted his colleague, who had a standing order for every measure he opposed in debate.

Then the question came up of whether the Milwaukee alderman should be invited to return the visit of the Duluth aldermen. The resolution had no opponents. The possibility that the Cream City men would bring their kegs with them was too strong. The only hitch came on the question of entertainment.

"I'll fix it," said the president. "I'll donate my steam yacht, and of course the gentleman from the Third will loan his carriage."

Right here there was a deadlock, and while some of the councilmen poured water on the Third ward man, who had fainted, a motion to adjourn was carried. The junior aldermen left the barn in haste, chasing before them the alderman from the Seventh, who was ostracized because he introduced the curfew ordinance.

CATARH DESCRIBED.

A Short History of a Bad Malady by an Eminent Medical Authority.

This is the way chronic catarrh usually begins: A person catches cold, which hangs on longer than usual. Then follows a sensitiveness of the air passages, which inclines to catch cold very easily. At last the person has a cold all the while, seemingly. More or less discharge from the nose, hawking from the throat, nostrils stopped up, full feeling in the head, and cracking in the ears. The Pe-ru-na treatment for this disease is the only treatment that has withstood the test of time. Pe-ru-na should be taken without interruption until every symptom disappears.

Send to Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing company, Columbus, Ohio, for a copy of their latest book on chronic catarrh. This book is a complete guide to the cure of all forms and stages of this dreadful disease.

GAM PARIS

Very Fascinating, Indeed, is the Capital of the French Republic.

The Heat This Summer Was Intense and Mosquitoes Were Numerous.

Some of the New Goods to be Seen in the Many Stores.

London, Oct. 5.—(Special correspondence of The Herald.)—There is no place like Paris, gay, fascinating Paris—and it is fascinating. Time goes without our knowledge there, and we had no thought or desire of going to England, whereas heretofore we had been looking forward to again being there soon. The only drawbacks here are the heat and mosquitoes. The heat in Paris this summer has been intense; the mosquitoes unusual, so the residents say. They sing and bite like natural mosquitoes, however. One of our party had one eye swollen shut for two days, owing to their unusual biting. The first place of importance we went to was Napoleon's tomb, and it is visited by hundreds of people on each day when the building is open. The building is circular in shape and finished in marble, decorated by paintings, mosaics and statuary. The tomb is in the center below the main floor, so that it can only be seen by going below or looking over the marble railing. The tomb was cut from a solid block of red marble and brought from Finland. Old and tattered flags were hung above the tomb and these needed no interest. A magnificent altar was in the main building. The chapel back of this contained many more old flags and a very fine organ. Joseph Bonaparte is buried here, too. The outside of the building is very beautiful, especially the dome which, being covered with gold, presents a glorious appearance in the sunlight. After a visit to this tomb we took a boat on the Seine for St. Cloud, the place where he first obtained power and where he preferred to stay above all other places. The ride on the river is very pleasant and takes about forty minutes only. Landing, we pass up to the park through the great gate, the only remains of the grand old place having been destroyed. The park is kept in the condition and flowers of all kinds bloomed in profusion. We walked up the main avenue which leads to the palace. Fountains were on either side of the main avenue. Above on a high elevation was a trocadero, commanding a pleasing view of the surrounding country.

ON TO SEVERES. A 15-minute walk through the forest of St. Cloud brought us to Severs, where the porcelain manufactory is. This belongs to the government. The museum is open daily for four or five hours and any one can go in and view the china without a permit. There were more beautiful urns and vases than other shapes, though there were many beautiful statuettes on pedestals and enough cups and saucers to make the cup and saucer collector green with envy. Many other beautiful ones in the pinks and blues. A small statue of a lady was very life-like and received much attention. But the pictures of Titian, Rubens and Van Dyke were particularly fine all done on china. From Severs it is only a short distance by tram to Versailles, and there we, with tourists by the hundreds, wended our way, or rode our way to be correct. Before we reached the palace the picture and souvenir vendors surrounded us and each insisted that you need his particular article more than any other. These raised us to the great gate going up the grand entrance, passing a colossal equestrian statue in bronze of Louis XIV. To the main entrance. The whole palace is an enormous museum gallery where a chapel attached. This chapel can only be looked at from afar, for no one is allowed to enter it. The historical galleries were most interesting to us, especially the gallery of battles, showing scenes from the most important battles of the French empire. The steps of Yorktown with Washington in the foreground was soon picked out with great pride by the many American visitors. The apartments of Louis XIV and XV are shown with great pride by the guides and these two have beautiful pictures in them. In going through the building and seeing where Marie Antoinette lived, feeling of sympathy for that unfortunate queen will come over one, and in going to the Napoleon rooms and seeing the portrait of Josephine, the sympathy for her, too, is deepened. A portrait of Marie Louise is next to the one of Josephine, and there is a mental comparison in every observer's look. A statue of Napoleon, seated in a chair, with a paper in hand and a hard expression on his face, is in the center of the room. The marshals of France adorn the walls in several salons. From one side of the building the grounds can be seen; fountains, statuary and flowers are again seen here. The fountains play every Sunday all summer and crowds go to see this beautiful sight. Passing through the park we come to the grand Trianon, a beautiful 1-story villa in the form of a horse-shoe. It is richly furnished and contains many things of historical interest. The petit Trianon, where Marie Antoinette and her court-ladies played at casual life in a little farther on. The coach houses are also worth seeing, one being especially fine. It was made for Charles X and regilded by Napoleon and is said to require ten horses to draw it. The ride from Versailles back to Paris is very pleasant, for no one is crowded in the cars. Instead of jumping on a crowded car you are calmly informed that you must wait for the next and these run only every half hour.

ON THE LOUVRE. This tram takes you past the Louvre and Tuilleries, which are on the Seine. The pictures at the Louvre are from all countries, Italy being better represented than the others. The Salle Carrée contains the masterpieces of the galleries, and here you see "The Immaculate Conception," and "Holy Family," by Rubens, Raphael's "Holy Family," Titian's "Maid," "Entombment of Christ" by Rembrandt, and so many others your eyes ache and your adjectives are all quite exhausted before looking at half of them. One alone contains eighteen works of Rubens, and no other gallery in Europe has as many of

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Benefits Three Generations.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)
"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my family ten years with the best of results."

"Before taking it I had falling of the womb; such bearing-down pains, back-ache, and kidney trouble. I had had eight children, and was approaching the change of life."
"I took the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills; was cured of all my troubles, and passed through the change all right, and now am fifty-four years old and well. My daughter had catarrh of the bladder, and it cured her. I send you my picture with my grandson, whose mother was cured by your remedies. I will recommend your Compound to every body."—Mrs. L. KELLY, Patchogue, L.I.

Raphael's pictures. While here we met a young lady from Duluth who had been studying music in Europe the past year. The Gobelins manufactory, started in 1450 by Jean Gobelins, and afterward becoming possessed by the government, is open two days in the week for inspection, and is always crowded with visitors. The work is in silk and wool and always copies of noted paintings and it would be difficult to short distance away to tell whether they were paintings or not. Of the cathedrals and churches mostly visited are Notre Dame, where the marriage of Napoleon and Josephine took place, and Sainte Chapelle, a beautiful gothic chapel, built by St. Louis. There are two stories to the building, and it is said the servants worshipped on the first floor and the court on the second, while the king, who was very suspicious, had a little private apartment with a window looking into the main chapel, where he could hear and see all without being seen. Near this building is the prison where Marie Antoinette was imprisoned. The Madeleine church, which everyone goes to see, is erected as a temple of glory by Napoleon I. We attended service here and listened to exceptionally fine music. The pantheon externally resembles yet much the pantheon at Rome. The walls are decorated by a series of pictures of Joan of Arc from the time she first heard the voice to deliver France until her martyrdom; also the lives of King Philip and St. Genevieve in tapestries are on the walls. Voltaire, Hugo, Carnot, Robespierre are buried here, but on account of dynamite being left in the crypt and found by the guides lately, a permit is required from some faraway, out-of-reach officer before one can go down. Cardinal Richelieu is buried in the church of Sordonne, which he built. His tomb is very beautiful. The Cluny museum is very near this church. We found everything a museum always contains and many things more. The opera house is one of the greatest attractions in Paris, and while we were there German opera was given three times a week, but the heat was so intense that it was unpleasant to go.

IN THE BOIS DE BOULOGNE. One of the rides we enjoyed most was through the Bois de Boulogne, the finest park in Paris, and of all the dress parades we had ever seen this exceeded them all. The park is magnificent, and here on Saturdays the brides and bridal parties come. This seems to be a favorite day in France for such occasions, and after the church, home festivities, which must occur in the morning, the parties drive out to the park, and at the most central place get out and walk round and round in a most solemn manner until they are quite sure their wedding clothes have been fully seen and appreciated by the multitude. Usually the bride of the bride is somewhat dusty from the trains sweeping the walks, but nothing could tempt the fair dames to relax from their dignity long enough to hold up a dress. The men of the party do not seem to count; they must be there of course, but it is called the brides' day. This, of course, is only done among certain classes in France. There is a saying in France that "Paris is the heaven for women, but the hell for horses," and the latter part certainly seemed true. Of all the poor, old and crippled horses in front of cars, and street cars, and the latter part certainly seemed true. Half of them would be taken out and shot in the states, but here they are whipped until they are dead. One day an old, blind horse had probably decided that death was a good thing and deliberately fell down to try it. He was kicked, whipped by dozens of men, until the old animal finally got up. The way he would look at them, then lay over at full length after deliberate reflection, was comically pathetic. More than a "Black Beauty" story is needed in France to teach them humanness. All tourists going to Paris seem to have an insane desire to go to the morgue. Why anyone but a physician should care to look at a dozen or more dead people with only curious intent is simply morbidness, and this little party went to Paris and did not go in the morgue. The working people, especially the men, seem to be very fond of snuff, for on several occasions here and in Italy also, we saw the devotees of the snuff box used their favorite kind quite freely in buses, trains and on streets.

THE SHOPS IN PARIS. But the Paris shops! You are drawn to them like a magnet. You must go; it is impossible to resist. The two largest shops, the Louvre and the Bon Marche, are always crowded. They are filled with all kinds of apparel, and everything else but groceries and meats. They were just opening their fall and winter goods, and they were very pretty indeed. Bright colors predominate in dresses, hats and neck jackets. The new hats are extremely pretty and are all extreme. Lace, fur, flowers, velvet and ribbon are often seen on one hat, but in that French way which does not show too much of any one. The newest dress goods are mixed wool and silk, often in the shot effects, and plaids in rough surface material. There are many beautiful shops on the Rue de l'Opera, too, but the masses go to the largest.

The American Girls' Art club in Paris is a good thing for girls. Many are here from America studying music and painting, and can live here in an independent way for a very moderate sum, the rooms being let for a certain price, according to location, and a cafe in connection, where meals are served at lower prices than in the outside restaurants. No married ladies are admitted to the club, but can come to the cafe. Quite a number of American girls who were simply visiting Paris were quartered here as well, and report things as very satisfactory. The place is usually so crowded that an application is always sent in, and as vacancies are made the accepted applicants go in. The club is in the old Latin quarter of Paris, and though other parts are more beautiful, it has the merit of being very interesting. We left Paris at night, going to Dieppe, where the boat took us to New Haven in England. As the last sight of the French shore was lost in the moonlight, we each vowed that we would certainly come to France again and remain a much longer time at Paris. Flora Loudon.

AN INSURANCE FLURRY.

Marine Underwriters on the Anxious Seat.

San Francisco, Oct. 18.—The English underwriters have become panic stricken in consequence of the recent fires in coal laden ships and as a result of the large business being done in this city in insurance. Four ships now on the way from Europe for San Francisco have been re-insured at the rate of from 10 to 20 per cent. The strange feature about the business is that none of the vessels are sent. The loss of the British ship "Parthia," bound from Leth for San Francisco, determined the underwriters' course of action.

They began quietly unloading their risks on the coal fleet, especially on those cured of all my troubles, and passed through the change all right, and now am fifty-four years old and well. My daughter had catarrh of the bladder, and it cured her. I send you my picture with my grandson, whose mother was cured by your remedies. I will recommend your Compound to every body."—Mrs. L. KELLY, Patchogue, L.I.

The Norddeutscher is out only sixty days. The Duchess is eighty-six days out. Such a state of affairs is almost without precedent, and it was not brought about by the loss of the Europa and Parthia alone.

The abandonment of these two vessels was the culmination of a long list of disasters to coal ships bound from Europe for the west coast which extends back to the time of the "Parthia." The makes the eighth vessel which has been abandoned in mid ocean in the past four months. Besides these, nine vessels have been on fire.

MCKINLEY AND MINNESOTA. Minneapolis Journal. Perry Jones says in the "Minneapolis Commercial Gazette" that he has a very good idea of the McKinley tariff. Perhaps not; but up him the Northwest we can distinctly remember that he did do a good deal for the McKinley platform in 1888; that if it hadn't been for Harrison's speeches, interpreting that platform and taking some of the high schedule coloring out of it in almost the first words he uttered after his nomination, we would have had hard sledding up in this part of the country, where an arduous climb is not after the plan of the McKinley platform and the McKinley schedules.

WINNING POPULAR FAVOR. Mazepa, Tribune. Congressman Towne is certainly winning popular favor daily by his sturdy, open battle against the gold standard. He has been fighting it all over the country, where an arduous climb is not after the plan of the McKinley platform and the McKinley schedules.

KEEPS POISON OUT

Poison in the Blood—The Kidneys Filter It Out and Keep the Blood Pure—They Protect Us From Many Dangerous Diseases.

What Happens When They Get Out of Order—How to Cure Them Again.

Most diseases are caused by poison in the blood. The kidneys should be kept out. The kidneys are supposed to do this. That is what they are there for. And they generally do. But when they are sick they can't; and then we get sick. The kidneys may get sick from overwork, worry, excess, high living, etc. The reason so many of our great men die from Bright's disease is that so many overwork themselves. Bright's disease is only one of the many diseases the root of which lies in the kidneys. Other folks suffer from diabetes, rheumatism, gout, gravel, sleeplessness, anaemia, nervousness, headache, neuritis, etc. All these diseases would go if the poison could be got out of your blood. If the kidneys would only do their work. If you would only take Dr. Hobb's Spargus Kidney Pills to make your kidneys do their work. It is not your kidneys' fault. You should be trying to help them. You should do it by taking Dr. Hobb's Spargus Kidney Pills. It is such an easy piece of knowledge to remember.

Your kidneys are simply filters. They need looking to now and then like other filters. If they are kept clean and healthy, they will keep your blood clean and healthy, and you will be strong and healthy. Asparagus is a healing and strengthening tonic for the kidneys. # FASHION

Gossip About Gowns and Other Things New to Bostonians.

Pretty Autumn Things That New York Has Taken Up With.

Hats and Fall Millinery From Paris and Other Fashionable Centers.

Now that everybody has provided herself with plenty of fancy waltz to go with the ubiquitous black skirt, it is said that the skirts and waltzes of the 1935 costumes for the coming winter are to be made of the same material, which would seem to prove that the fancy waltz of silk and velvet are not to be so much the rage as last year says the Boston Beacon. They have by no means gone out of fashion, and will be necessary adjuncts to those costumes which are made with skirts and coats. But there is no question that the smartest cloth costumes will have the waist of the same material as the skirt, and the woman who gets her winter costume made early in the season will be able to wear without any of the lines of her figure; for the new models show the waist in a new way, and to relate, makes them too hot to wear in the house and too cold to wear in the street when once winter has begun.

For the present, cloth costumes will be more seen than any others. These are made with the skirt and coat, or rather jacket, for the short little skirt is the correct thing, and is much more a jacket than a coat. The skirts are full, very full, and have no stiffening. How they are to be kept out is a secret of the trade, who will tell you that in the cutting, the skirt is cut in a way that it will hold its shape. The serges of broad weave, the Scotch chevrons and the camel's hair goods of the rough, shaggy kind, with the hair showing on the surface are all used for these walking costumes. The skirts are sometimes made with a wide, flat, but as a rule are quite plain.

The jaunty little jackets come only a few inches below the waist line, and have flaring skirts in the back and are cut so as to have long, graceful lines. The seams overlap and are stitched down. The fronts are loose, button under a flap, but there is generally a small, rather dainty, which gives a delicious curve at the side. The sleeves and shoulders are quite lovely. The jacket is made with a wide, flat, but as a rule are quite plain.

One who knows advises women to wear their very smartest last winter's gowns immediately. Now they will not lose, while in a few weeks they will be quite out of date. The shoulders and sleeves are still to be the objective in the new gowns and how to make the low shoulders give a higher shoulder effect is puzzling. The brain of the clever designer. High shoulders may not be artistic. They certainly give a look of style that is becoming to the generality of women; and as for the broad shoulder effect, the most patriotic American must admit that American women fall in these lines of beauty in no far from the fact that it is altogether too narrow in proportion to the bust development. This the broad-shouldered garment has remedied. Where the long shoulder seam is coming is in one case out of ten, but few women have naturally a long line from the ear to the point of the shoulder, and to accentuate this is exceedingly apt to have the effect of the gown falling off, and without a trimmed look whatever. One pattern of sleeve obviates this difficulty by bringing out over the yoke, which is brought down at least two inches on the arm. A little judicious padding, but let it not be used to any second-rate dressmaker to be the order of the day, and beautiful are the decorations connected with them.

Especially there is a distinct improvement for the rather monotonous white ensemble which has been the traditional in being varied and brightened by colors, which brighten the ceremony to a marvelous degree. The decorations are being varied and brightened by colors, which brighten the ceremony to a marvelous degree. The decorations are being varied and brightened by colors, which brighten the ceremony to a marvelous degree.

On the subject of harvest decorations there is obviously no novel departure; the fact that the festival is accompanied by a display of the "fruits of the earth" does not give opportunity for startling innovations, but it is still necessary to urge more breadth in the work of decoration. The size and style of the church should be taken into consideration and, to insure success, anything approaching haphazard and piecemeal decorating must be strictly avoided. The general tendency has always been to keep the work altogether too low, and many of the items used at such festivals are injudiciously placed, producing thereby an incongruous effect. Receptacles for flowers should be kept for the church and made according to requirements; they can be made of all shapes and sizes, long, narrow, shallow, deep, or curved for the screen, chancel, front, altar, rails, lectern, etc.

The best way to raise the decorations is by making a sort of super-sheen of flowers; this can be easily obtained in the help of tubes varying in length from ten or twelve inches to two or more yards. They contain sections of damp sand, and are most useful for all slender perpendicular effects. For home decorations, especially for those who live in the country, this is almost the best time of the year. Nothing in the way of garlands, flowers could be more beautiful than the results obtainable from the products of the real country flower garden. Arrange a display of wild foliage and berries, finished off with long trails of clematis, and, with the addition of silver bowls or pretty glass, the table will be all alike for the most elaborate dinner party or the choicest family gathering. For October, of course, all the brightest tints should be prominent. Any arrangement in flame and gold will be found cheerful and warm. Such designs can easily be carried out with tiger lilies, cornucopias, Cape gooseberries and early autumnal flowers. The single dahlias, which are to be had in such delightful shades, will make a graceful decoration. Foliage to match almost all the tints can again be found in plenty, from the glorious copper beech to the rosy red maple, to say nothing of the charms of colored amplexis and Virginia creeper.

THE NOVELTIES.
The fur trade is now becoming brisk, and we have every opportunity of deciding how the several skins are to be arranged on fashionable garments. The cape reigns for the time supreme, and shows the new treatment of fur, viz., its ornamentation with pheasant's feathers and other foreign elements.

The fur coat is full, and two high collar nestles comfortably about the neck. A star with loops of jet and jet motifs is introduced on the left side, and the star of some knightly order, and more satin bows are set beneath the fur edged collar at the opposite sides. The accompanying muff is of the same skin.

These appear to be worn of the ordinary side, the enormous ones revived from the period of Marie Antoinette, have met with little success. Chinchilla is to be the particular trimming for the season, and it has been very charmingly displayed on a full round velvet cape with a wide, flat, but as a rule are quite plain.

For capes are to be full and long, and sable will be rather more in vogue than most other furs. Messrs. Redfern have some elegant designs, and velvet reaching to the feet, lined throughout with a rich, dark, and in a double-breasted cape, with a wide, flat, but as a rule are quite plain.

Between capes and coats there has been a merry war for precedence, with the result that garments with mous sleeves seem to be getting the best of it. There are several new variations this year of the Eton jacket in sealskin, both with and without collar, and revers of chinchilla. A lovely long cape of Russian sable has a yoke of sable outlined with tiny sable paws, the cloak being bordered all round the hem with quite a deep fringe of sable, and finished at the neck with a turn down sable collar. A double-breasted cape, with a wide, flat, but as a rule are quite plain.

REDFERN'S OFFERINGS.
The Great New Yorker Has Something Fine.

Glancing into numerous showrooms, it is particularly noticeable how greatly braid is being used as a trimming in the costumes of the season. This is in the mode of trimming so conspicuous as at the English tailor's on Fifth avenue, where, as all know, the work is done with skill and always with a view to the artistic, and here the braiders are all true artists. Gowns, coats, capes and even blouse waists, one may see show this method of ornamentation in some form. The skirts, for those who can afford to pay for it, are being richly trimmed with rich embroideries—in some cases the braiding is carried in a line down the center, widening towards the bottom into an artistic design which again narrows at the hem. As to the waist, there is a great demand for sealskin and Persian lamb vests with embroidered revers. The gored sleeves are also often decorated at the top in this way. Flare collars which are so much in vogue for coats do not find great favor for waists, because they are apt to be in the way of the coat collar and spoil the fit. Coats cut any longer than twenty-four inches are quite out of date.

One of his new things is a charmingly simple coat, jaunty and smart, with collar cuffs, tabbed edges and front plait of tan cloth. The bottom is black. This compact, stylish coat, when worn with a dark red velvet hat trimmed with black plumes and white wings and red cloth skirt, produces a most fashionable "get up" for fall wear.

An excessively elegant gown trimmed in military style will be a taking one. Redfern offers to make a taking one. Redfern offers to make a taking one. Redfern offers to make a taking one. Redfern offers to make a taking one.

NEW YORK GOSSIP.
Large Sleeves Continue a Chief Attraction.

At a very fashionable gathering last week, says the New York Evening Post, a stylishly dressed young woman was this change is now both easily and inexpenively brought about, for the shops sell a large black crown or raven, with wings outspread, and apparently held captive by a pair of narrow black wings. The tendency toward the use of gimp and gallow effects in various widths is also being continued. The trappings of the horse, some of these goods show a half to ten inches in width, and are lined with a deep fringe of sable, and finished at the neck with a turn down sable collar. A double-breasted cape, with a wide, flat, but as a rule are quite plain.

The furriers have set forth the most elegant and expensive articles of the winter stock. Sealskin, otter, mink and Persian lamb occupy central positions in the display windows, and a study of forthcoming styles is thus afforded the passer-by. The new fur coats have the attractive additions of collarlets, fish-shaped trimmings, or cape collars, also made of fur, which are not only different and colorful, but narrow fur borders are being used in a variety of ways. The fur coats are being made in a variety of ways, and the fur coats are being made in a variety of ways.

FALL MILLINERY.
Styles Are Numerous and Distinct in Shape.

Not all hats are wide and not all are turned up, but a very great many are trimmed with bows of a new form. One of these bows is usually made of velvet ribbon in eight or twelve hoops, that are nearly five inches long, stiffly wired and mounted to jut out from the crown upon the brim, like the old spoked discs rings used to wear. Another bow is little more than a crushed knot of velvet, not larger than an egg and not important in itself, but when along the extreme verge of a wide-brimmed black felt, swathed in brown and yellow plumes, a whole dozen of these odd bows are massed together and made of a yellow velvet that shades to cream and striking.

The autumn headgear is less fantastically rich and much more picturesque and becoming in form than that seen recently. Velvet and felt, of course, are the materials used, and the French creations are made of taffeta. Thus shirred hats have a peculiar old-time appearance and are deftly trimmed with tufts of feathers, alpacas, antique lace and buckles, which give them a very fascinating appearance. Chénille puts in a claim for a place in the autumn millinery, and is very extensively used in combination with felt and velvet. Jet is as useful as ever, and many of the bright-colored velvet crowns are entirely covered with a net of jet.

Some of the Paris hats are gigantic. One Parisian hat of black velvet covered with rose velvet, having white Valenciennes insertion set in at regular intervals. Above this is a wealth of black feathers. A smaller hat, and more in reach of ordinary mortals, had a shot glass according bow of green and dark blue, with a jet ornament in the center. This was placed at the side, standing up high.

The rest of the hat was of green and blue velvet. A charming hat of black felt had the brim turned straight up at the back, with a broad bow of black velvet passed through an antique buckle. The entire hat was turbaned with rose velvet, and the crown was of black velvet. A very striking shirred hat, with a black velvet crown, was set in black velvet. Frighful Accident at a Ferry Landing Near New Orleans.
Three are Known to be Dead and Many Badly Injured.
New Orleans, Oct. 21.—There came near being a horrible calamity about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and as it is there are about thirty persons suffering from injuries more or less serious, while there are fears of three people being drowned. This terrible state of affairs was caused by the breaking down of the little iron bridge which leads from the Algiers ferry house to the floating wharf where the ferry boat is accustomed to land. The following is a list of the missing and injured. Missing: Annie Missina, aged 8 years. Mary Lauer, aged 11 years. An unknown woman. Injured: D. E. Meehan, broken leg; F. C. Champagne, bruised; John Alfino, leg broken; J. J. Cannon, court officer; leg injured; Augusta Campbell, bruised; Mrs. W. S. Farvey, leg and arm injured; Mrs. Sarah Condon, hip injured; Mrs. P. McMahon, bruised; Miss Laura Wagner, head cut; Miss Jennie Wagner, head cut; John Courtney, left arm injured; Joe Gregory, leg broken; Miss Julia Leaman, internal injuries; Henry Adler, right arm broken; R. Patton, aged 12 years, injured about head; William Brooks, injured about body; Louis Marquis, bruised; Thomas Lundy, left hand cut; unknown lady, hip injured.

Hundreds of Struggling Human Beings Suddenly Fell Into the Water.
Some three weeks ago, the owners of the ferry house at the Algiers Landing, and a few days ago it was suddenly completed to be used. Yesterday morning for the first time, the building was placed in use. The iron bridge which is fastened to the floating wharf, was weeks ago moved to its position, and before the building was a large clamp which held it in place and, in addition, long belts were added to increase the stability of the passageway. The bridge itself proved the weakest part of the entire structure, and it was here that the tragedy took place. The bridge was broken, and about 150 people into the shallow water, near the bank of the river.

The distance between that portion of the bridge which gave way and the river measures about eleven feet. It was nearly dusk and people of all ages were hurrying back to the ferry and to their homes. There was a rush for the wharf as soon as the ferry came in sight, and before the ferry had landed there were crowded on the pontoon wharf as many people as the structure would hold. Then the mass of humanity crowded through the door of the ferry house on to the iron wharf, until it too was packed with men, women and children and there was another great crowd in the ferry house itself.

The ferry boat, the Thomas Pickler, was also crowded. The engines were slowed down on approaching the wharf, and she, as usual, almost drifted to her landing. The ferry was struck by the vessel bumped against the end of the pontoon, and with a crash, the iron span parted and the ferry was hurled into the water among the piling and drifting timbers. Fully thirty men, women and children were injured, while there are missing two children and the statement would hold. Then the mass of humanity crowded through the door of the ferry house on to the iron wharf, until it too was packed with men, women and children and there was another great crowd in the ferry house itself.

THE PRESIDENT'S PARTY.

Patton, aged 12 years, injured about head; William Brooks, injured about body; Louis Marquis, bruised; Thomas Lundy, left hand cut; unknown lady, hip injured.

The train will be one of the best that has ever been sent from Washington. It will consist of the private car "Wildwood," the car used by President Paul, and a Pullman sleeping car. The train will leave Washington at 11 o'clock.

The division which has existed throughout the campaign between the reform and administration Democrats and the anti-reformers has in Detroit assumed the more personal nature of Dickinson vs. Daniel J. Carrigan, ex-state chairman.

The Steamer John Craig Struck Near Ballard's Reef and Sank.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer John Craig, bound down with a cargo of 74,000 bushels of wheat, struck at Ballard's reef yesterday morning, knocking a large hole in the bottom, which caused her to sink in one hour. She now lies above Duff & Gattfield's dock in eighteen feet of water, and about 70,000 bushels of wheat are in the water. It is fully insured, but the steamer is without insurance. The tug Wales, with steam pumps and diver left last evening for the wreck.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons Match Declared Off at Hot Springs.
Fitzsimmons' Manager Will Not Agree to a Postponement.
Guthrie, Oklahoma, Makes An Offer Which Appears to be Too Late.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 21.—The fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons was declared off by the Florida Athletic club at a conference this morning between the managers of Corbett and Fitzsimmons. The club asked that the contest be postponed until Nov. 11. Brady acquiesced, but Julian would not. The contest was declared off. Brady then said his last say, that Corbett would meet any man in the world, Fitzsimmons preferred, on Nov. 11, the man to be named within twenty-four hours. Vendig announced he would match Maher against Corbett, and find some one to take his place against O'Donnell, the contest between Maher and Corbett to be for $50,000 a side. Julian is keeping the wires warm.

THE LEGAL STATUS.
Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 21.—Attorney Gen. Kinsworthy returned from Hot Springs today. He has prepared a bill of exceptions to the Corbett habeas corpus case, making six typewritten pages, which will be filed in the supreme court. All the attorneys here and it is expected the supreme court will hear the case immediately. Should a writ be granted the case will then come before the supreme court to pass on Judge Leachman's decision and the constitutionality of the anti-prize fight law.

AN OFFER FROM GUTHRIE.
Dallas, Tex., Oct. 21.—George W. Taylor, chief of the Guthrie, Okla., fire department, who went to Hot Springs to lay before Dan Stuart an offer of $15,000 from the citizens of Guthrie to have prize fights pulled off in that town, returned to his home today. He is confident Guthrie will get the fight. He says Stuart has his proposition as well as the citizens of Guthrie. He told him he would not go into the ring for any up to noon today no illness of his. Julian told him the same thing for Fitzsimmons. He said that if the fight is possible in Arkansas and as finish fights can be pulled off at Guthrie, he is confident that town will finally be selected by Stuart and the Florida Athletic club.

NATIONAL CONVENTIONS.
Chicago Will Have a Building Big Enough.
Chicago, Oct. 21.—Active preparations are in progress to care for one or more of the national political conventions in case Chicago is selected. A large force of men is at work on the big structure to be known as the Coliseum, located at the corner of Sixty-third street and Illinois Central railway, the main entrance of the old World's fair grounds. The immense building will be completed and opened in May next when an international cycle tournament on a quarter of mile track, to be followed in June with a horse show to take the place of the Washington park derby.

COTTON EXCITEMENT.
Market is Still Wild and Falling Lower.
New York, Oct. 21.—Cotton contracts opened irregular; near months declined 2 3/32 points and distant months 2 1/32 points. At 11 o'clock the market was easy at 30 points decline from Saturday. At 12 m. prices showed 3 3/32 points net decline. Sales to noon, 275,000 bales. Prices broke sharply on a decline at Liverpool, equal to 33 points here. It was reported that the New Orleans market, in conjunction with another New Orleans firm, had decided to maintain prices for October, November and December.

ALASKAN BOUNDARY.
Residents There Do Not Like the Change.
Seattle, Oct. 21.—The citizens of Alaska are greatly excited over the boundary line question and propose to take steps in the matter without delay. They do not want to see the richest portion of the United States annexed to British Columbia and say they will fight before they will see it taken. The paramount reason of renewed activity in the boundary line question is the brilliant outlook of the mining properties along the Yukon and in the vicinity of Juneau.

FATAL FIRE AT MILLVILLE.
St. Paul, Oct. 21.—A Winona, Minn., special to the Dispatch says: A serious fire at Millville, Washburn county, starting in A. J. Mahrberg's blacksmith shop, destroyed the store, Leonard's store, Schmidt's hotel and John Larson's dwelling. Albert Harveon, an employee of the machine shop, was burned to death. The postoffice building also burned, but the mail was saved. Loss, $4000.

A CHURCH STRIKE.

Workmen on a Polish Structure Want Their Pay.

Winona, Minn., Oct. 21.—There is some difficulty in the St. Stanislaus Polish Catholic church. The fifteen Scagliola men struck on Saturday. It seems they have received no pay for the past two weeks, and they demand that their wages be forthcoming regularly every Wednesday. The painters are still at work, but also threaten to strike next week if they do not receive their money.

UNHEALTHY CHICAGO.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The health department today declared both diphtheria and typhoid fever epidemic in Chicago. The department reported 330 cases of diphtheria last week, 48.40 per cent of which were fatal. The epidemic is charged to impure water, and the health commissioner has issued a warning against the drinking of unboiled water.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Progress of Work at the Meeting Today.

Minneapolis, Oct. 21.—At the session of the house of deputies of the Episcopal convention this morning the resignation of Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, of New York, from the constitutional revision committee was accepted, and Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, also of New York, was elected in his stead.

The committee on new dioceses reported that there were some constitutional questions involved in the request of the missionary jurisdiction of Northern Texas to be erected into a diocese, and recommended that the matter be referred to the proper committee. This may prevent action being taken until the next convention.

The committee reported favorably on the petition for the erection of the missionary district of Asia, out of the western part of the present diocese of North Carolina. The reasons for the action being called for, Silas McBee, of North Carolina, spoke at length, showing that the territory proposed to be ceded was growing most rapidly, and in a few years would become a self-supporting diocese. The report was then unanimously concurred in.

Dean Hoffman reported that the house of bishops had receded from their choice of the word "synod" instead of "convention," and had agreed to give up the "primacy" nomenclature. With these concessions the house adopted article 1 of the revision, and that much is settled without further consideration by the revision committee. A long list of memorials to deceased members was read and devotional exercises were held.

ASSIGNED

Stuckey's Embezzlement Has Forced the State Bank to the Wall.

A. D. Davidson, of Little Falls, Is Named as the Assignee.

Detective Benson Lost Trail of Stuckey and Has Returned Home.

The expected has come. The State bank has made an assignment to A. D. Davidson, president of the First National bank of Little Falls, Minn. That the bank would not reopen was almost a foregone conclusion, when it became known on Saturday that the bank was paying no checks and had not cleared. There was considerable surprise when it was learned that the bank had been receiving deposits even while refusing to pay checks, but this is explained by the fact that the deposits were filed away separately and are to be returned.

The assignee was probably preoccupied in a measure by the action of the state treasurer. The state had about $5,000 on deposit in the bank but according to the interviews with Treasurer Kerner the state's bond was only for $10,000. The treasurer immediately drew on the bank for $10,000, the withdrawal of which amount would have brought the deposit in the bank but according to the interviews with Treasurer Kerner the state's bond was only for $10,000. The treasurer immediately drew on the bank for $10,000, the withdrawal of which amount would have brought the deposit in the bank but according to the interviews with Treasurer Kerner the state's bond was only for $10,000.

LOST THE TRAIL.
Detective Bob Benson returned this morning from his pursuit of Charles H. Stuckey, the missing cashier. The trail ends at Turtle Lake, Wis., where Stuckey seems to have disappeared. The father of the escaped man arrived in the city Saturday night and is stopping with his brother-in-law, Walter Warner, at 231 East Third street. For the past three years Stuckey, Sr., has been engaged in the stock raising business at Turtle Lake. He was at Ann Arbor on a visit when he learned of his son's disappearance through the newspapers. The old gentleman is strong in his belief that his son is as much smugged against as shaming and offers to make good the amount of the young man's defalcation.

SHOT BY AN OFFICER.

Emil Stortz Ran Against a Determined Policeman.

Emil Stortz, a laborer in the employ of the Howard Lumber company, was shot through the shoulder about 9 o'clock this morning by Officer Fiskett while resisting arrest.

As the officer was standing on Ninth street, two men approached him whom he recognized as being two of the participants of a drunken quarrel at the officers' headquarters. One of the men approached Fiskett and without saying a word, aimed a blow at the officer's head. Fiskett jumped back in time to save himself and broke his club on the man's forehead.

At this the second man stepped up to aid his companion, but both ran when Fiskett drew his revolver. The officer pursued and cornered his men at Twenty-second avenue west and Second street. A fight ensued which ended in Fiskett being driven in self-defense to shoot one of his assailants.

The wounded man bled profusely and was removed in the patrol wagon to the central station where his wounds were dressed. The bullet entered high on the shoulder lodging in the back. It was cut out by Dr. Maxwell who pronounced the wound not serious.

The wounded man gave his name as Emil Stortz living at 13 Park avenue. He was much under the influence of liquor. He appeared so penitent that he was released on his own recognizance to appear in court this morning on a charge of resisting an officer. He failed to appear and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

In the state and the committee of 25 are overwhelmed with praise for the perfection of their arrangements. For the benefit of those who expected guests and did not receive them I would say we have a record of seventy-nine and more who wrote for entertainment and then failed to come or to advise us."

Will Lower Them.

Patrick McDonnell, who holds the contract for laying street car lines on Third street from Twentieth avenue west to Thirty-seventh avenue west, has been asked to cut back the board of public works. The board notified the contractor that the tracks were laid six inches too high and must be lowered. They claim McDonnell did not follow the city engineer's lines. He alleged in defense that the gutters were below the proper level. The matter has been adjusted and the tracks will be lowered.

HAS A TEMPER.

Brown Seems to Be Married But Not Mated.

S. B. Brown, who was brought back from Fargo, N. D., on a complaint charging him with deserting his wife and five children, was confronted with his helpmeet this morning at the central station and the pair talked long and earnestly together. As the desertion took place in Texas Brown could not be held by the authorities here.

Mrs. Brown is a little woman, but she has a voice and temper seven sizes too large for her and when she opened her eyes on her erring spouse, strong men shuddered and stole away. The pair did not arrive at an agreement this morning, but some arrangement will probably be made today. Brown declares no one on earth could live with his wife and professes a willingness to take the children if she will agree to a separation.

The superior man, who was Brown's father-in-law, talks of suing Brown in Wisconsin for breach of promise. He says the engagement cost him forty hard round Simonsens.

Judge Nelson finds for the coal company and holds that reasonable diligence in unloading the boats was manifested.

THE MUHLBAUR CONCERT.
The concert at the Lyceum yesterday did not benefit Otto Muhlbaur very much for the audience was barely enough to pay expenses. The program was an excellent one. The orchestra played several numbers. George Tyler did not sing.

CURES DYSPEPSIA.

A New Preparation, Pleasant, Harmless, Simple, Prepared Solely for Weak Digestion.

A new remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion, very highly recommended by Dr. Jennison and other prominent physicians is a combination in tablet form of vegetable and fruit essences, pure aspartic peptin and Golden Seal. One of these tablets should be dissolved in the mouth after each meal and according to Dr. Jennison the effect seems to be that the food is perfectly and promptly digested, before it has time to sour and ferment, which causes all the mischief.

So popular have these tablets become with people who have any form of indigestion that they are now sold by druggists everywhere under the name Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

They are not a secret patent medicine, but as related above, contain vegetable and fruit essences, peptin and Golden Seal in a form absolutely safe and pleasant to take.

A few of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be carried in the pocket and taken after meals, and whenever there is any pain or discomfort in the stomach. They cure sour stomach, heartburn, bloating, gas, palpitation and all symptoms arising from disordered digestion. Will cure any stomach trouble, except cancer of the stomach. All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents for full sized packages, or sent prepaid by mail from Stuart company, Marshall, Mich.
